Vaccine Data & Facts

The Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Complex Intersection

The relationship between the pharmaceutical industry and pandemics has become a central point of scrutiny in recent decades, particularly in light of the COVID-19 pandemic and the rapid development of mRNA vaccines. This exploration delves into the discoveries, allegations, historical predictions, and the growing concerns surrounding the pharmaceutical industry's role in shaping global health responses.

Discoveries and Studies

In the field of vaccine research, certain studies have raised eyebrows due to their exploration of nanotechnology within vaccines. Dr. Young Mi Lee and Dr. Daniel Broudy, for example, published a study in the International Journal of Vaccine Theory, Practice, and Research in 2024, where they examined unused vaccine vials under high magnification. The researchers observed nanoparticle formations, such as discs, chains, spirals, tubes, and right-angle structures, in the vaccines. These particles were hypothesized to contribute to the development of conditions such as "turbo cancer" and autoimmune diseases, raising concerns about the potential for these nanoparticles to form a "synthetic global central nervous system." This network, the researchers argued, could control individuals, transforming them into "Biohybrid Magnetic Robots." In response to these findings, they called for a global ban on mRNA vaccines and the removal of the label "safe and effective."

Emergencies and Allegations

Pandemics have often been accompanied by global emergency declarations, some of which have triggered allegations of intentional manipulation. On August 11, 2024, Japan declared a state of emergency after discovering nanobots in the population of 96 million citizens. A few days later, on August 14, 2024, the World Health Organization (WHO) declared Monkeypox a public health emergency of international concern. Some allegations suggested that the virus had been intentionally introduced through AstraZeneca’s vaccine as part of a global control strategy.

The COVID-19 pandemic itself has been marked by similar controversies. Claims surfaced that SARS-CoV-2, the virus responsible for COVID-19, had not been conclusively proven to have originated naturally. Some speculated that the pandemic was engineered to pave the way for the widespread distribution of experimental vaccines, which critics argued contained computer-generated mRNA spike protein sequences and non-biological elements. This has led to accusations of a coordinated effort by pharmaceutical companies, the WHO, and global organizations like the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation to exploit the pandemic for control over global health systems and to erode civil liberties.

Historical Predictions and Controversies

Looking back at historical predictions about global governance and pandemics, in 1992, John Coleman forecasted the rise of a "post-industrial" world dominated by globalist technocrats, with the goal of reducing the global population by 2050 through wars, epidemics, and starvation. This stark prediction resonates with some of the more contemporary theories surrounding the pharmaceutical industry's role in global health responses, particularly in regard to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Vaccine-related adverse effects, particularly concerning the mRNA vaccines developed for COVID-19, have sparked heated debates. Some researchers have linked self-assembling nanotechnology in these vaccines to the development of "turbo cancer" and autoimmune diseases. Concerns about the impact of vaccines on infants have also been raised, citing potential risks such as biochemical and photonic interactions, immune overload, neurological damage, and endocrine disruption.

Global Governance and Vaccine Policies

The relationship between global health authorities and national governments has been a point of contention, particularly regarding the WHO's role in pandemic responses. The WHO has been proposed to receive expanded powers, including the authority to declare global public health emergencies. Critics, including political figures like President Trump, argue that such expanded influence could lead to mandatory vaccinations and experimental gene therapies, undermining national sovereignty and paving the way for a globalist agenda.

Key Themes and Claims

One of the central areas of concern in this discourse revolves around the ethics of vaccine implementation. The use of the PCR test, which has become a standard diagnostic tool for COVID-19, has faced criticism. Some claim that the test is not merely a diagnostic tool but may alter human genetics. Additionally, the extended lockdowns and mandates that followed the "15 days to slow the spread" message have sparked debates about governmental overreach, civil liberties, and the influence of pharmaceutical companies on public health policies.

Pharmaceutical giants, particularly companies like Pfizer and AstraZeneca, have faced allegations of misconduct, with critics pointing to connections between vaccine promotion and adverse outcomes, such as fetal deaths and neonatal intensive care unit admissions. Leaked communications and anecdotal reports have fueled suspicions that profit motives, rather than public health concerns, are driving vaccine promotion. Furthermore, accusations of vaccine-related adverse effects—including blood clotting, cancer, infertility, autoimmune diseases, and DNA alterations—have intensified public skepticism.

Treatment Suppression and Alternatives

Amid the rapid development and approval of COVID-19 vaccines, alternative treatments such as ivermectin and hydroxychloroquine were largely sidelined in favor of newer therapies like Paxlovid. Critics argue that the emphasis on newer treatments reflects profit-driven motives rather than prioritizing public health. Some medical professionals have championed ivermectin for its anti-inflammatory properties, and its ability to bind tightly to the spike protein of the virus has been suggested as a way to mitigate the effects of vaccine-related injuries.

Contradictions and Ethical Questions

Vaccine efficacy has remained a contentious issue throughout the pandemic. While vaccines have been credited with mitigating the spread of disease, they have also faced accusations of making individuals more susceptible to severe outcomes. Ethical concerns have emerged around the approval process, particularly regarding insufficient testing protocols, unauthorized medical procedures, and violations of parental consent in pediatric immunizations.

The Broader Implications

The growing concerns about the intersection of pharmaceuticals, global governance, and public health have broader implications, particularly regarding the potential for transhumanism, the erosion of personal autonomy, and the expanding role of AI in governance. Religious and ethical concerns have also emerged, especially in relation to vaccine mandates and the risks associated with vaccine-induced injuries. Historical and geopolitical contexts suggest that pharmaceutical advancements are deeply intertwined with global power structures, raising concerns about the influence of a "deep state" in shaping global health narratives.

The Rise of Pandemics and Bioweapons

Pandemics have shaped human history for centuries, but the COVID-19 pandemic has given rise to a controversial theory: the idea that pandemics, particularly COVID-19, may not have been natural occurrences but instead could have been engineered. Some speculate that bioweapons—viruses intentionally created for mass disruption—may have been released to manipulate the global population. The rapid development of mRNA vaccines and the introduction of 5G technology during the pandemic have led to questions about their connections to the origins of the virus and the potential links to deliberate bioweapon deployment. These events are viewed by some as strategic opportunities for global elites to control economies, implement surveillance measures, and pursue broader governance and population management agendas.

The Role of Vaccines and Big Pharma

Vaccines, traditionally seen as tools for disease prevention, have come under scrutiny, particularly in relation to the mRNA vaccines developed for COVID-19. Critics argue that these vaccines represent a shift toward gene therapies that extend beyond the traditional scope of immunization. Whistleblower reports and studies have suggested an increase in adverse reactions, including myocarditis, cancer, neurological disorders, and infertility. Data from sources like the Defense Medical Epidemiology Database (DMED) has raised alarm about the long-term safety of these vaccines. Additionally, claims have emerged suggesting that vaccines contain harmful substances such as graphene oxide, HIV proteins, and luciferase, which some believe could contribute to genetic modification or population control.

Pharmaceutical companies producing the COVID-19 vaccines, critics argue, have prioritized profit over public health. These companies, supported by political elites, have been accused of using the pandemic as a business opportunity to cement their power over global healthcare systems.

The Unseen Dangers: 5G and Surveillance

5G technology has sparked concern due to its potential for mass surveillance and control. Some claim that 5G frequencies could be used to manipulate human emotions and behavior, altering thought patterns and inducing anxiety. Coupled with biometric surveillance and tracking systems, 5G could contribute to the establishment of a global surveillance state, facilitating control over the population. The combination of 5G, vaccination programs, and the expansion of biometric monitoring has led some to believe that these technologies are part of a larger agenda aimed at controlling individuals on a global scale.

The Emergence of a New World Order?

The idea of a New World Order (NWO) has emerged in discussions regarding global health crises, vaccines, and technological advancements. Proponents of this theory suggest that the pandemic, vaccine mandates, and the expansion of 5G technology are all deliberate steps towards creating a one-world government. This system would have centralized control over finance, health, and surveillance, with the masses being monitored and controlled, while elites remain unaffected.

The Controversial Intersection of Medicine and Control

Critics argue that the pharmaceutical industry has manipulated populations through the promotion of synthetic drugs and vaccines that mask symptoms rather than address root causes. The shift from natural remedies to synthetic medications is seen by some as a deliberate strategy to create lifelong dependence on pharmaceutical companies. With the rise of digital health systems, biometric monitoring, and genetic modification technologies like CRISPR and nanotechnology, concerns have emerged about the potential for these advancements to be used to control human biology and autonomy.

Vaccine Development and Testing Issues

The development of COVID-19 vaccines, especially mRNA-based ones, has faced numerous challenges, including the halting of animal trials due to severe adverse reactions. Critics contend that the public became the test subjects for these vaccines, with safety concerns not fully addressed before mass distribution. Despite the rapid approval process, adverse events such as myocarditis, blood clots, and even deaths have raised significant concerns about the long-term safety and efficacy of these vaccines.

Introduction

The pharmaceutical industry, particularly during pandemics, plays a pivotal role in global health initiatives, often under intense scrutiny. This document aims to present a comprehensive overview of significant vaccines, medical discoveries, treatments, global governance policies, and the controversies surrounding them. By examining key events, research findings, and allegations, the intention is to deliver a clear, factual narrative, free from speculation, concerning the influence and operations of the pharmaceutical industry during health crises.

The pharmaceutical industry has long been central to discussions surrounding global health crises, particularly pandemics. While vaccines have historically been hailed as a cornerstone of modern medicine, the recent scrutiny of their safety, particularly during the COVID-19 pandemic, has unveiled deeper concerns. These concerns raise questions about the true motivations behind the industry's influence, its relationship with global health authorities, and the potential for long-term consequences in the context of bioweapons, surveillance technologies, and population control.

This examination of the pharmaceutical industry, the role of pandemics, and the technologies tied to both highlights the increasing intersection of public health, corporate power, and technological advancements. The COVID-19 pandemic, in particular, has served as a pivotal point for questioning the ethical and societal implications of pharmaceutical interventions, surveillance, and global health policies.

Discoveries and Studies

In the realm of vaccine research, scientists like Dr. Young Mi Lee and Dr. Daniel Broudy have explored the presence of nanotechnology in vaccines. Their study, published in the International Journal of Vaccine Theory, Practice, and Research, analyzed unused vaccine vials under high magnification. They observed the formation of structures such as discs, chains, spirals, tubes, and right-angle formations, suggesting the presence of nanoparticles in vaccines. As a result, they called for a global ban on mRNA vaccines and the removal of labels like "safe and effective."

Emergencies and Allegations
Throughout various pandemics, several emergency declarations and allegations have surfaced. For example, Japan declared a state of emergency on August 11, 2024, following the discovery of nanobots in 96 million citizens. On August 14, 2024, the World Health Organization (WHO) declared Monkeypox a public health emergency of international concern, with some allegations suggesting that the virus was intentionally introduced through AstraZeneca's vaccine as part of global control measures.

The COVID-19 pandemic itself has been marked by numerous allegations, including claims that SARS-CoV-2, the virus purported to cause COVID-19, has not been proven to exist naturally. Some have suggested that the pandemic was engineered to facilitate the global distribution of experimental vaccines, which allegedly contained computer-generated mRNA spike protein sequences and non-biological elements. Critics have accused pharmaceutical giants, the WHO, and global organizations like the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation of orchestrating a global health fraud, using the pandemic as an opportunity to erode human rights and establish surveillance and control systems worldwide.

Historical Predictions and Controversies
A historical perspective on pandemics reveals deep concerns about global governance. In 1992, John Coleman predicted a "post-industrial" world dominated by globalist technocrats who would reduce the global population through wars, epidemics, and starvation by 2050. This alarming forecast suggests a troubling parallel to current events and raises questions about the broader intentions behind pandemic responses.

Vaccine-related adverse effects, particularly concerning the mRNA vaccines developed for COVID-19, have been hotly debated. Some researchers have linked the self-assembling nanotechnology in mRNA vaccines to the development of "turbo cancer" and autoimmune diseases. Concerns about the impact of vaccines on infants include biochemical and photonic interactions, immune overload, neurological damage, and endocrine disruption. These potential consequences have raised alarms about the long-term effects of widespread vaccination.

Global Governance and Vaccine Policies
The power dynamics between global health authorities and national governments have also come under scrutiny. The WHO's expanded powers, proposed to include the authority to declare global public health emergencies, have sparked concerns that such authority could lead to the imposition of mandatory vaccines and experimental gene therapies. Critics of the WHO, including political figures such as President Trump, argue that granting the organization greater influence could undermine national sovereignty and enable a globalist agenda.

Key Themes and Claims
A significant area of concern revolves around the ethics of vaccine implementation. The PCR test, often used to diagnose COVID-19, has been the subject of criticism, with some claiming it is not merely a diagnostic tool but a technology designed to alter human genetics. The extended lockdowns and mandates that followed the initial "15 days to slow the spread" slogan have also raised debates about governmental overreach, the erosion of civil liberties, and the role of pharmaceutical companies in influencing public health policies.

Accusations of misconduct within the pharmaceutical industry have been directed at companies like Pfizer and AstraZeneca, with claims linking vaccines to adverse outcomes such as neonatal intensive care unit (NICU) admissions and fetal deaths. Leaked communications and anecdotal reports have fueled these concerns, with critics arguing that profit-driven motives, rather than public health, are at the core of vaccine promotion. Allegations of vaccine-related adverse effects, including blood clotting, cancer, infertility, autoimmune diseases, and DNA alterations, have further fueled public skepticism.

Treatment Suppression and Alternatives

Amidst the rapid development of COVID-19 vaccines, treatments like ivermectin and hydroxychloroquine were largely sidelined in favor of newer alternatives like Paxlovid. Critics contend that the emphasis on newer drugs reflects profit-driven motives rather than public health priorities. Ivermectin, in particular, has been lauded by some medical professionals for its anti-inflammatory properties and its ability to bind tightly to the spike protein of the virus, potentially mitigating the effects of vaccine-related injuries.

Contradictions and Ethical Questions

Vaccine efficacy has remained a contentious issue, with conflicting narratives emerging about their safety and effectiveness. While vaccines have been credited with mitigating the spread of disease, they have also faced accusations of making individuals more susceptible to severe outcomes. Additionally, ethical concerns have been raised about the approval process, particularly regarding insufficient testing protocols, unauthorized medical procedures, and violations of parental consent in pediatric immunizations.

Call to Action

The complexities surrounding the pharmaceutical industry’s involvement in pandemics have underscored the need for greater transparency, accountability, and independent research. Public awareness and critical engagement with vaccine narratives are essential, particularly in the context of long-term studies into mRNA vaccines and the ethical dimensions of pharmaceutical practices. It is crucial that governments and pharmaceutical companies prioritize the health and well-being of individuals, rather than pursuing profit-driven agendas at the expense of public trust.

Pharmacology, Medicine, and Pandemics
Robert F. Kennedy Jr. has drawn attention to Bill Gates' significant influence in global health, particularly through his stakes in major pharmaceutical companies and his substantial contributions to the WHO. These financial ties have raised questions about the extent to which corporate interests shape global health policies, particularly in relation to the development and distribution of mRNA vaccines. Funding from organizations like the NIH-NIAID, the Chan Zuckerberg Initiative, and BioNTech has further complicated the issue, with some critics questioning the motivations behind these financial connections.

Bioweapon Allegations and COVID-19 Origins
The origins of COVID-19 have been a subject of intense debate. Some claims suggest that the virus did not originate in Wuhan but instead came from U.S.-funded biolabs, such as those at the University of North Carolina. These labs have been accused of mass-producing pathogens like SARS and Ebola, raising concerns about the intentional release of viruses across multiple countries. Dr. Peter McCullough has also speculated that COVID-19 vaccines might inadvertently enable outbreaks of other contagious viral illnesses, such as hepatitis and monkeypox.

Sudden Adult Death Syndrome (SADS)
The emergence of Sudden Adult Death Syndrome (SADS) has been linked to the COVID-19 vaccines, with critics referring to it as Vaccine-Related Death Syndrome (VRDS). The condition is believed to be caused by vaccine-induced complications, including pathologies related to the spike protein.

Bioweapons and Vaccines
Concerns about the design of COVID-19 vaccines have been raised by experts like Dr. Mike Yeadon, who pointed out that the spike protein was selected as the primary target in vaccine development despite being highly unstable and genetically similar to human proteins. This has led to suspicions of collusion between the pharmaceutical companies and raised questions about the broader implications for human health.

5G and Health Implications
Emerging concerns about the health implications of 5G technology have included reports of radiation poisoning and "cell poisoning" in countries like Indonesia. Speculations have also connected 5G technology with bioweapons, suggesting a coordinated effort to manipulate and control populations.

Broader Implications
The broader implications of these developments include fears about the promotion of transhumanism, the erosion of personal autonomy, and the increasing role of AI in governance. Religious and ethical concerns have also emerged, particularly in the context of vaccine mandates and the risks associated with vaccine-induced injuries. Historical and geopolitical contexts suggest that pharmaceutical developments are entangled with global power structures, raising concerns about the influence of a "deep state" in shaping global health narratives.

The Rise of Pandemics and Bioweapons

Pandemics have been a consistent feature of human history, but recent events have sparked a controversial theory: the possibility that pandemics, especially COVID-19, may not be natural occurrences but manufactured ones. There is growing speculation that bioweapons—viruses engineered for mass disruption—could have been intentionally released to manipulate the global population. In the case of COVID-19, some suggest that its timing, the rapid development of mRNA vaccines, and the introduction of 5G technology raise troubling questions about its origins and potential links to deliberate bioweapon deployment.

The theory posits that pandemics may not only serve as health crises but also as strategic opportunities for global elites to control economies, implement surveillance measures, and advance a larger agenda of governance and population management.

The Role of Vaccines and Big Pharma

Vaccines have been a fundamental part of the global response to pandemics. However, the rapid development and distribution of mRNA-based COVID-19 vaccines have stirred significant controversy. While vaccines have traditionally been seen as a means of disease prevention, critics argue that the new mRNA vaccines represent a shift toward gene therapies that go beyond the scope of traditional immunization methods.

Some whistleblower reports and studies claim that adverse reactions following vaccination have risen significantly, including increases in myocarditis, cancer, neurological disorders, and infertility. Data from sources such as the Defense Medical Epidemiology Database (DMED) suggests alarming spikes in these health conditions, raising questions about the long-term safety and potential harm caused by these vaccines. There are also claims that the vaccines contain harmful substances such as graphene oxide, HIV proteins, and luciferase, which some believe could contribute to genetic modification or population control.

Pharmaceutical companies, particularly those producing the COVID-19 vaccines, have been accused of prioritizing profit over public health. Critics argue that these companies, supported by political elites, have used the pandemic as an opportunity not only to sell vaccines but also to cement their power over the global healthcare system.

The Unseen Dangers: 5G and Surveillance

The rollout of 5G technology has raised concerns that its true purpose may extend beyond providing faster internet speeds. Some claim that 5G technology could serve as a tool for mass surveillance and even mind control. The theory posits that 5G frequencies could be used to manipulate human emotions and behavior, inducing anxiety or altering thought patterns. Coupled with the growing use of biometric surveillance and tracking systems, 5G could play a role in the establishment of a global surveillance state, facilitating control over the population.

The potential for 5G technology to influence human behavior and the extensive tracking systems associated with vaccination programs suggest that the push for these technologies may be part of a larger agenda for totalitarian control, with the goal of monitoring and manipulating individuals on a global scale.

The Emergence of a New World Order?

The idea of a New World Order (NWO) has emerged in various discussions about the intersection of global health crises, vaccines, and technological advancements. Proponents of this theory argue that the pandemic, coupled with vaccine mandates and the expansion of 5G technology, is a deliberate move towards creating a one-world government. This proposed system would have centralized control over finance, health, and surveillance, with the masses being subjugated under strict monitoring, while elites remain unaffected by these systems.

The idea of the NWO suggests that global elites are using vaccines, 5G, and other technologies as tools for genetic control and population management. These technologies, it is claimed, are part of a broader agenda to create a global society in which the chosen few remain free from the effects of these interventions.

The Controversial Intersection of Medicine and Control

Critics of the pharmaceutical industry argue that it has manipulated entire populations through the promotion of synthetic drugs and vaccines that serve to mask symptoms rather than cure diseases. The shift from natural remedies to synthetic medications is seen by some as a deliberate strategy to create lifelong dependence on pharmaceutical companies. As digital health systems and biometric monitoring become more prevalent, some worry that these tools could be used not to improve public health, but to control individuals, monitor their behavior, and profit from their data.

The development of technologies like synthetic biology, CRISPR gene-editing, and nanotechnology also raises concerns about the potential to alter human biology in ways that may not yet be fully understood. These advancements, combined with the global push for vaccination and biometric tracking, fuel fears of a future where human biology is controlled by corporate and governmental powers.

Vaccine Development and Testing Issues

The development of COVID-19 vaccines, particularly mRNA-based ones, has been fraught with issues from the outset. Concerns were raised during animal trials, which were halted prematurely due to severe adverse reactions. Some critics argue that the public became the test subjects for these vaccines, as safety concerns were not fully addressed before mass distribution. Despite the accelerated approval process, reports of adverse events, including severe health conditions such as myocarditis, blood clots, and even deaths, have fueled distrust in both the pharmaceutical companies and the regulatory bodies overseeing the vaccines.

Furthermore, the rapid deployment of vaccines, combined with inconsistent messages about their effectiveness, has exacerbated skepticism. While vaccines were initially heralded as a solution to the pandemic, their diminishing effectiveness against new variants and the growing demand for booster shots have led many to question their long-term utility and safety.

Political and Social Ramifications

The political and social ramifications of the pandemic and vaccine mandates have been profound. In 2021, President Biden's administration proposed a vaccine mandate for federal employees, which sparked debates over individual rights versus public health. The mandate was later challenged in court, with appeals courts ruling against vaccine requirements for private employees, citing constitutional concerns.

Socially, the pandemic has led to significant polarization. Public figures, including doctors and health experts, have been divided over the safety and effectiveness of vaccines. While some advocate strongly for vaccination, others have raised alarms about the risks. The rise of vaccine-related adverse events and the emergence of breakthrough infections have further fueled skepticism and division within society.

Theories and Alternative Perspectives

Alongside mainstream narratives, numerous alternative theories have emerged, suggesting that the pandemic was orchestrated for financial gain, population control, or as a means to advance technologies like microchips and genetic modification. While these theories remain largely unsubstantiated, they have gained traction in certain circles, fueled by growing distrust in the pharmaceutical industry and government authorities.

Some claim that the mRNA vaccines were designed to alter human genetics, although there is no scientific evidence to support this. However, the growing interest in synthetic biology, gene editing, and nanotechnology has raised concerns that such technologies could be used in the future to manipulate human biology in ways that are not yet fully understood.

The Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Critical Overview

The pharmaceutical industry plays a pivotal role in responding to global health crises, particularly through the development and distribution of vaccines. The COVID-19 pandemic, which emerged in 2020, served as a significant case study in both the power and controversy surrounding the industry's response. While vaccines promised to be a solution to the global health crisis, their efficacy, safety, and the broader financial implications have generated significant debate.

The Emergence of the COVID-19 Pandemic and Vaccine Development

The COVID-19 pandemic prompted an unprecedented global health response. Pharmaceutical companies raced to develop vaccines, with companies like Pfizer-BioNTech and Moderna leading the way with mRNA vaccine technologies. These vaccines, which promised immunity against COVID-19, became central to the global strategy for controlling the pandemic. However, the speed of development, the untested nature of mRNA technology, and the potential conflicts of interest raised concerns from many quarters.

The urgency of vaccine development was compounded by the global financial stakes. As the pandemic progressed, the wealth of the world's richest individuals skyrocketed. In 2020, the wealth of the top 10 billionaires stood at $695 billion. By mid-2021, this had more than doubled to $1.36 trillion, with nine individuals surpassing the $100 billion mark. This stark increase in wealth raised questions about the financial implications of the pandemic and the role of the pharmaceutical industry in profiting from it.

Vaccines and the Intent Behind Mass Vaccination

As the pandemic unfolded, mass vaccination became a central global policy. Despite widespread vaccination efforts, questions arose regarding the effectiveness of the vaccines, especially in preventing infection and transmission. Gibraltar, for example, became the most vaccinated country on Earth, with over 99% of its population fully vaccinated by June 2021. Yet, even as vaccination rates soared, new COVID-19 cases surged, leading to the reimposition of lockdown measures. Similar trends were observed in Israel, the United Kingdom, Malta, and Iceland, where high vaccination rates did not prevent increasing case numbers.

The effectiveness of mass vaccination efforts came under scrutiny, particularly as data from organizations like Johns Hopkins and the CDC indicated that countries with high vaccination rates were still facing significant COVID-19 transmission. This led to questions about whether vaccines were truly effective at stopping the spread of the virus, especially when combined with the growing doubts about the accuracy of PCR testing, which, in many instances, was found to generate a high rate of false positives due to high cycle thresholds.

Efficacy and Side Effects of the Vaccine

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The promise of the COVID-19 vaccines was that they would halt the virus's spread and protect individuals from severe illness and death. However, it became evident that the vaccines did not provide the immunity initially expected. Governments around the world advised continued masking, social distancing, and avoidance of large gatherings, even for the vaccinated. Furthermore, breakthrough infections and continued virus transmission among vaccinated populations raised concerns about the vaccines' true effectiveness.

In addition to questions about efficacy, reports of adverse reactions to the vaccines surfaced. Some individuals experienced rare but severe side effects, including myocarditis, neurological disorders, and fertility issues. Autopsies of individuals who died post-vaccination revealed spike proteins in various organs, which led to concerns over potential long-term health impacts. These side effects, coupled with the absence of a clear understanding of the vaccines' long-term effects, fueled skepticism and distrust among parts of the public.

Financial and Political Connections: A Web of Influence

The rapid development of COVID-19 vaccines was not solely driven by scientific urgency; financial and political motivations also played a significant role. In 2015, the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) entered a partnership with Moderna, establishing shared ownership of the coronavirus vaccine technology. This collaboration between government entities and pharmaceutical companies raised suspicions about the political and financial incentives behind the pandemic response.

Further scrutiny was directed toward the financial relationships between pharmaceutical companies, hospitals, and government agencies. Hospitals received higher payments for admitting COVID-19 patients, particularly those placed on ventilators, which some critics argued created a financial incentive to exaggerate the severity of the pandemic and the need for drastic measures. The coincidence of rising pharmaceutical profits alongside the escalating health crisis led to widespread concerns about the profit-driven nature of the pandemic response.

The Role of Bioweapons and Early Intervention

While speculation surrounding the origins of COVID-19 has been widespread, some have argued that the virus could have been intentionally released as part of a broader agenda to create global panic. This theory suggests that COVID-19 was a bioweapon designed to destabilize the world and increase control over populations. Proponents of this view also argue that effective treatments, such as Hydroxychloroquine and ivermectin, were intentionally suppressed by pharmaceutical companies and governments to force a reliance on vaccines.

While the origin of the virus remains a subject of debate, the narrative surrounding early treatment options adds another layer to the complexity of the pandemic's management. The suppression of alternative treatments, which some claimed were effective in early stages of the disease, raised questions about the influence of pharmaceutical interests on global health strategies.

The Media, Public Perception, and the Role of Social Media

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The media played a critical role in shaping public perception of the pandemic and the vaccines. Critics argue that the mainstream media, in collaboration with pharmaceutical giants, suppressed negative information and presented the vaccines as the only solution to the pandemic. Alternative treatments, such as ivermectin and Hydroxychloroquine, were often censored, while the benefits of vaccines were widely promoted.

Social media platforms, too, were implicated in shaping the narrative, with accusations of censorship of dissenting opinions. The suppression of alternative viewpoints, particularly those critical of vaccine safety and efficacy, led to allegations of a coordinated effort to control public opinion. These claims of censorship and manipulation fueled skepticism and distrust in the pandemic response and its associated policies.

The Question of Eugenics and Global Control

Another facet of the discourse surrounding the COVID-19 vaccines involves allegations of a broader agenda tied to eugenics and population control. Some critics argue that the push for mass vaccination, along with the development of vaccine passports, is part of a plan to reduce the global population and exert greater control over individuals. This theory suggests that the pharmaceutical industry, in partnership with government entities, is using pandemics as a means to consolidate power and establish a new world order.

These concerns have been amplified by the implementation of vaccine mandates and the growing push for biometric surveillance. The combination of pandemic response measures and the rollout of digital health passes raised fears of a surveillance state that could monitor and control individuals' movements and actions.

Conclusion

The relationship between the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and vaccines has been a subject of intense scrutiny, particularly in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic. The rapid development of vaccines, the widespread use of PCR testing, and the rollout of 5G technology have raised significant concerns about the motives behind these global health responses. While the pharmaceutical industry has played a critical role in combating pandemics, questions about its influence, the safety of its interventions, and the potential for long-term consequences remain unresolved.

The need for transparency, continued investigation, and open discourse is crucial as society grapples with the implications of these developments. The ongoing debate surrounding the pharmaceutical industry's role in global health crises will continue to shape the future of public health, technology, and governance.

Conclusion

The pharmaceutical industry’s involvement in pandemic response has been marked by both significant advancements and contentious debates. While vaccines and treatments have played a crucial role in managing health crises, the controversies surrounding their development, distribution, and governance highlight the complexities and ethical dilemmas inherent in global health policies. Moving forward, it is essential to foster transparency, accountability, and a critical examination of the long-term effects of pandemic responses to ensure that public health remains the priority.

Conclusion: A New Era of Scrutiny

The COVID-19 pandemic has brought the relationship between the pharmaceutical industry, government entities, and the media under intense scrutiny. While vaccines undoubtedly played a critical role in combating the pandemic, the efficacy, safety, and broader financial and political ramifications of the vaccine rollout have raised significant ethical concerns. As the world continues to navigate the aftermath of the pandemic, it remains essential to critically examine the narratives surrounding the pharmaceutical industry's role in global health crises, the safety and effectiveness of vaccines, and the broader implications of pandemic management for society as a whole.

The ongoing debates and concerns surrounding the pharmaceutical industry and its response to the COVID-19 pandemic underscore the need for transparency, accountability, and a balanced approach to public health policy. As more information comes to light, the public must remain vigilant in questioning the motivations behind the pandemic response and the long-term impacts of vaccine deployment on global health.

Pharmaceutical Industry, Pandemics, and Vaccines: A Critical Examination

Introduction

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The pharmaceutical industry has long been central to discussions surrounding global health crises, particularly pandemics. However, recent scrutiny has uncovered alarming patterns that suggest not only questionable practices but also a potential underlying agenda within the industry. A deeper dive into these allegations reveals troubling correlations between pharmaceutical interventions, the rise of pandemics, and the advent of new technologies that could have far-reaching implications for humanity.

The Rise of Pandemics and Bioweapons

Pandemics have been a consistent feature of human history, but recent events have sparked a controversial theory: that pandemics, particularly the COVID-19 crisis, might not be natural occurrences but manufactured ones. There is a growing body of evidence suggesting that bioweapons, such as viruses engineered for mass disruption, may have been released intentionally. The COVID-19 outbreak, in particular, is cited by some as a deliberate act, with the intention to manipulate the global population, control the economy, and introduce sweeping measures for surveillance and control. According to various sources, the timing of the pandemic, the rapid development of mRNA vaccines, and the rollout of 5G technologies raise serious questions about the true origin of COVID-19 and its potential links to bioweapons.

The Role of Vaccines and Big Pharma

Vaccines, particularly the mRNA-based COVID-19 vaccines, have become the focal point of heated debates. While vaccines have long been hailed as a cornerstone of modern medicine, new concerns about their safety and effectiveness have emerged, especially following the global rollout of the COVID-19 vaccine. According to several whistleblower reports and studies, adverse reactions have skyrocketed post-vaccination. Data from the Defense Medical Epidemiology Database (DMED) reports a shocking 2,800% increase in myocarditis cases and up to 900% increases in various forms of cancer, neurological disorders, and infertility. These alarming statistics suggest that the vaccines, rather than offering protection, may be contributing to widespread harm.

The vaccines are alleged to contain harmful substances, including graphene oxide, HIV proteins, and luciferase, which are believed by some to serve a dual purpose: genetic modification and population control. Critics argue that the pharmaceutical companies, in collaboration with global elites, have redefined the term "vaccine" to include gene therapies that go far beyond traditional immunizations.

The Unseen Dangers: 5G and Surveillance

The rollout of 5G technology has raised concerns that its true purpose may extend far beyond providing faster internet speeds. Some theorists claim that 5G towers are not just for communication but serve as advanced surveillance tools and even as mind control devices. It is suggested that 5G frequencies can influence human emotions and behavior, from inducing anxiety to altering thought patterns. Combined with the widespread use of biometric surveillance and tracking through vaccines, the push for 5G may be part of a larger agenda to create a totalitarian control system.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The Emergence of a New World Order?

Some believe that the pandemic, combined with the global push for vaccines and the advancement of 5G technology, is a deliberate move towards a New World Order. This alleged agenda envisions a one-world government, a global surveillance system, and a cashless society controlled by central authorities. The ultimate goal is said to be the subjugation of the masses, with the elites remaining untouched by these systems. According to these claims, the mRNA vaccines and 5G are tools for genetic control and population management, designed to ensure that only the chosen few remain unaffected.

The Controversial Intersection of Medicine and Control

The pharmaceutical industry is accused of manipulating not just medicine, but entire populations, through the promotion of synthetic drugs and vaccines that mask symptoms rather than cure diseases. The shift from natural remedies to synthetic medications, critics argue, is a deliberate move to create lifelong dependence on pharmaceutical companies. This has been compounded by the rise of digital health systems and biometric monitoring, which some see as a pathway to control and subjugation. The purported goal of these systems is not to improve public health but to monitor, control, and profit from individuals' lives.

The Road Ahead: Will the Truth Prevail?

The future remains uncertain, with many questions left unanswered about the true motivations behind global health policies, vaccination campaigns, and technological advancements. What is clear, however, is the need for continued vigilance and critical examination of the forces at play. The growing concerns about the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and the potential misuse of technology require transparent investigations and open discourse.

As we move forward, it is crucial that the public remains informed, questioning the narratives presented by the media and government authorities. Whether the current crises are part of a larger scheme or the result of negligence remains to be seen, but the stakes are undeniably high.

Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Historical Perspective

The pharmaceutical industry has long been a subject of controversy, especially in the context of pandemics and vaccines. Many argue that its influence has deepened with the rise of global health crises, particularly during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Rise of Pharmaceutical Power

One of the central claims within the provided material is the assertion that Big Pharma, particularly since the early 20th century, has become a powerful and sometimes malevolent force. The Rockefeller family is often cited as a key player in shaping modern medicine, using its wealth and influence to foster pharmaceutical monopolies. Critics of the industry argue that it has shifted the focus of healthcare from curing disease to managing chronic illness for profit.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

This notion is linked to the theory that pharmaceutical companies have used crises—such as pandemics—not only as opportunities for profit but as a means to control the public.

The COVID-19 Pandemic: A Bioweapon or a Manufactured Crisis?

The COVID-19 pandemic has fueled conspiracy theories regarding the pharmaceutical industry's role in global health emergencies. A central theme in the narrative is that the pandemic was deliberately engineered to drive a new wave of vaccine mandates, while simultaneously suppressing treatments that could have mitigated the virus's impact. Some argue that the virus itself, often referred to as the "Chyna virus," was a bioweapon, a theory fueled by suspicions surrounding the origins of SARS-CoV-2 and the early stages of the pandemic.

Vaccines and the "Clotshot" Debate

The COVID-19 vaccine, particularly the mRNA vaccines, has been at the heart of the controversy. Dr. Robert Malone, recognized as one of the pioneers of mRNA technology, has been both censored and celebrated in various circles for his stance on the vaccine. Malone has expressed concerns about the rapid rollout of the vaccine, particularly its lack of long-term safety data. Conversely, his critics, particularly within mainstream media and political circles, argue that his views have been co-opted by anti-vaccine conspiracists to sow confusion and fear.

Meanwhile, the development of vaccines has been hailed as a medical breakthrough by many experts, though some remain cautious, pointing to the unprecedented speed of their approval and deployment. The rise of vaccine-related adverse events has only intensified scrutiny, with claims that the vaccine may be causing more harm than good, including rare but severe side effects like myocarditis and blood clots. These claims have led to heated debates regarding the ethics of mass vaccination campaigns.

The Role of the Media and Big Tech in Shaping Public Perception

The mainstream media and social media platforms have played pivotal roles in either promoting or suppressing information about the pandemic and vaccines. While many reports have focused on the benefits of vaccination and the urgency of preventing viral spread, others have raised concerns about the suppression of dissenting opinions. Figures such as Dr. Peter McCullough and Dr. Vladimir Zelenko, both outspoken critics of the official pandemic response, have been marginalized, while others with more mainstream views have enjoyed widespread promotion. This divide highlights a broader issue of information control during health crises.

Mass Psychosis and Public Manipulation

An emerging concept in discussions surrounding the pandemic is "mass formation psychosis," which posits that large groups of people can be manipulated into a state of mass hysteria, leading them to follow government mandates without question. This theory suggests that the public's willingness to comply with restrictions such as lockdowns, mask mandates, and vaccine requirements was a form of mass psychosis, exacerbated by fear and government rhetoric.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The argument goes further, claiming that the pharmaceutical industry's ties to global power structures, including the media and political elites, created a perfect storm for psychological manipulation. Critics of this view argue that it oversimplifies the complexities of the pandemic response and ignores the genuine threat posed by COVID-19.

The Pfizer and Moderna Vaccines: Unintended Consequences?

The vaccines developed by Pfizer and Moderna have been lauded as effective tools in curbing the spread of COVID-19. However, some voices have raised alarms about their composition and potential side effects. One of the key concerns highlighted is the presence of graphene oxide in the vaccines, which some believe could lead to toxicity. While there has been little scientific backing for these claims, the notion of corporate malfeasance has fueled skepticism about the pharmaceutical giants' intentions.

PCR Testing: A Tool for Control?

Another critical element in the narrative is the use of PCR testing during the pandemic. Initially seen as an essential tool for tracking the spread of the virus, the test has come under scrutiny for its perceived inaccuracy. Critics argue that the PCR test was not designed to detect COVID-19 specifically and that it may have been used to inflate case numbers. The CDC's eventual withdrawal of the emergency use authorization for the PCR test in 2021, after it was acknowledged that the test could not distinguish between COVID-19 and the flu, gave weight to these concerns. This withdrawal was seen by some as a belated admission of the test's flaws, undermining its role in the pandemic response.

The Allegations of Vaccine-Induced Deaths and Cover-Ups

There has been a persistent narrative in some circles suggesting that the COVID-19 vaccine has led to widespread deaths and severe adverse reactions, including myocarditis and blood clotting disorders. While mainstream health organizations like the CDC and WHO have maintained that the benefits of vaccination outweigh the risks, these claims have fueled suspicions that vaccine-related deaths are being downplayed or covered up. Some allegations go so far as to claim that the medical establishment, including doctors and hospitals, has been complicit in underreporting vaccine-related injuries for fear of losing funding or facing legal action.

Nuremberg Trials and Accountability

The comparison between the actions of the pharmaceutical industry and the atrocities committed by Nazi Germany during World War II has been a recurring theme. Some critics argue that those who are complicit in the mass administration of COVID-19 vaccines, particularly when they are allegedly linked to harmful effects, should face accountability similar to the Nuremberg Trials. This analogy highlights the ethical dilemma surrounding the pandemic response and the role of public health officials in promoting widespread vaccination.

Pharmaceutical Industry, Pandemics, and Vaccines: A Critical Examination

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The relationship between the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and vaccines has been a topic of intense scrutiny, especially in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. From the development of vaccines to the implementation of mandates and the responses from government bodies, several significant issues have surfaced.

1. Vaccine Development and Testing Issues

Reports of problems with vaccine testing, particularly in animal trials, raised early concerns. It was revealed in a 2020 Senate hearing that animal vaccine trials were halted prematurely due to severe adverse reactions, sparking concerns about the safety of these vaccines for human use. This led some to suggest that the public became the test subjects, as these concerns were not fully addressed before vaccine rollout.

The rapid development of COVID-19 vaccines, such as those from Pfizer, Moderna, and Johnson & Johnson, also generated questions about the integrity of the testing processes. The rollout was accompanied by increasing reports of adverse events, including serious conditions such as myocarditis, blood clots, and even deaths. Some have claimed that the vaccine's risks were downplayed to accelerate approval for mass distribution, creating a sense of distrust in both the pharmaceutical industry and the government agencies overseeing these processes.

2. The Role of the Pharmaceutical Industry

The pharmaceutical industry's influence in the pandemic response has been a focal point of criticism. The industry's significant financial power raised questions about the motivations behind rapid vaccine approval and distribution. Critics argue that the pharmaceutical companies were driven by profit, with government and regulatory bodies acting as facilitators.

Reports have surfaced suggesting that vaccines were developed with the help of high-level governmental ties, and various whistleblowers have exposed what they describe as a coordinated effort to suppress alternative treatments such as Ivermectin. Some experts argue that these treatments, which were proven effective in early trials, were overshadowed by the push for vaccination, largely due to political and financial interests.

3. PCR Testing and Potential Health Risks

The widespread use of PCR tests to detect COVID-19 has also raised concerns. Former FEMA whistleblowers and other experts have claimed that the tests were not only ineffective but potentially harmful, suggesting that they could have been used to implant microchips or other harmful devices into individuals. The insertion of the nasopharyngeal swab, which reaches the blood-brain barrier, was cited as a point of vulnerability for these alleged attacks on the human body. However, these claims remain controversial and unverified.

Despite the uncertainty around their potential effects, PCR tests became a cornerstone of pandemic monitoring, with millions of tests being administered globally. Meanwhile, the tests' efficacy in accurately detecting COVID-19 has been questioned, especially given the rapid changes in virus variants that did not always match the test's capabilities.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

4. Impact on Public Health and Safety

The vaccine rollout, which began in December 2020, quickly became a contentious issue. Reports from sources such as the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) documented numerous adverse events, including severe health conditions and deaths. Some advocates of vaccine safety argue that these adverse events were not properly reported or were downplayed by health authorities.

The narrative surrounding COVID-19 vaccines was further complicated by differing messages about vaccine efficacy. Initially hailed as a solution to the pandemic, vaccines were later shown to offer reduced effectiveness over time, particularly against new variants like Delta and Omicron. This led to the push for booster shots, which created further division and suspicion about the long-term safety and necessity of continued vaccination.

5. Political and Social Ramifications

The political implications of vaccine mandates were profound. In 2021, President Biden's administration proposed a vaccine mandate for federal employees, which sparked debates over individual rights versus public health safety. The mandate was later challenged in court, with appeals courts ruling against the imposition of vaccine requirements for private employees, citing constitutional concerns.

Socially, the pandemic and vaccine mandates led to significant polarization. Public figures, including doctors and health experts, were divided over the safety and effectiveness of vaccines, with some strongly advocating for them while others raised alarms about the risks. A growing body of evidence suggested that the unvaccinated were less likely to experience severe disease, while vaccinated individuals still experienced breakthrough infections, leading to further skepticism about the vaccines' promised benefits.

6. Theories and Alternative Perspectives

Alongside mainstream narratives, numerous alternative theories have emerged, claiming that the pandemic was orchestrated for financial gain, population control, or as a means to push forward technological advancements like microchips and genetic modification. These theories, though widely contested, have gained traction in certain circles, fueled by distrust in government and pharmaceutical companies.

One of the most controversial ideas to emerge was the claim that the vaccines were designed to alter human genetics, with some suggesting that the mRNA technology used in vaccines could result in permanent genetic changes. This claim, although unsubstantiated, has become a focal point for those opposed to vaccination.

In addition, many have pointed to the development of synthetic biology, CRISPR technology, and nanotechnology as potential tools that could be used to alter human biology in ways that are not yet fully understood.

The Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Critical Overview

The pharmaceutical industry, particularly its role in the development and distribution of vaccines during the COVID-19 pandemic, has been the subject of much debate and scrutiny. The onset of the pandemic revealed stark contrasts between the fortunes of pharmaceutical companies and the struggles faced by the general public. While many individuals were grappling with the economic fallout of lockdowns and health concerns, the wealth of billionaires surged significantly. In the early days of the pandemic, the wealth of the top 10 richest individuals was $695 billion; by mid-2021, it had more than doubled to $1.36 trillion, with nine individuals now surpassing the $100 billion mark in net worth. This stark increase in wealth raises questions about the pandemic's financial impact and its relationship to the pharmaceutical industry's profit-driven motives.

Vaccines and the Intent Behind Mass Vaccination

As the pandemic progressed, the goal of mass vaccination became a central policy around the world. However, the effectiveness of vaccines, particularly in terms of preventing infection and transmission, has been questioned. For instance, Gibraltar, the most vaccinated country on earth, with over 99% of its population fully vaccinated by June 1, 2021, saw an increase in new COVID-19 cases from 1 to 25 per day. This led the country to reintroduce lockdown measures. Similar trends have been observed in other highly vaccinated countries such as Israel, the United Kingdom, Malta, and Iceland. Despite high vaccination rates, these nations faced rising COVID-19 cases, prompting many to question the efficacy of the vaccines in preventing transmission and the need for continuous lockdowns.

Data from Johns Hopkins and the CDC also highlighted that the countries with the highest vaccination rates were often among those listed as high or very high COVID-19 travel risk zones. The CDC's findings raised concerns about the safety of travel to vaccinated nations, suggesting that vaccination alone did not protect against the virus's spread.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The situation was further complicated by the high rates of false positives produced by PCR testing, which in many countries were set to high cycle thresholds (35-45), leading to up to 90% false positives. These issues raised alarms over the reliability of mass testing, contributing to the growing skepticism about the pandemic response.

The Efficacy and Side Effects of the Vaccine

The promise of COVID-19 vaccines was that they would stop the virus's spread and protect individuals from severe illness or death. However, as the pandemic unfolded, questions arose about the vaccines' true benefits. Initially, individuals were told that vaccination would reduce the likelihood of infection, stop transmission, and return life to normal. Yet, the reality proved more complex. The governments of several countries stated that even after vaccination, individuals should continue wearing masks, practice social distancing, and avoid large gatherings. Moreover, it became clear that the vaccines did not guarantee immunity, nor did they prevent individuals from becoming infected or transmitting the virus.

In addition to these concerns, there were reports of adverse reactions following vaccination. Autopsies of individuals who died post-vaccination revealed spike proteins in various organs, raising alarm over the long-term effects of the vaccines. These concerns fueled skepticism about the safety of the vaccines, especially when considering the rare but severe side effects such as myocarditis, neurological diseases, miscarriages, and infertility that were reported by some individuals after receiving the vaccine.

The Role of Bioweapons and Early Intervention

There is growing speculation about the origins of COVID-19, with some claiming that it was a man-made bioweapon intentionally released to cause global panic and chaos. This theory suggests that the virus was engineered to destabilize the world and increase control over populations. The narrative further argues that treatments such as Hydroxychloroquine and ivermectin, which were reported to be effective in treating COVID-19 in its early stages, were intentionally vilified by mainstream media and pharmaceutical companies to push the agenda of mass vaccination.

The widespread dissemination of these claims has added to the divisive debate surrounding the pandemic and the response of global health authorities. According to proponents of this theory, the mass vaccination campaign is a coercive measure to push people into taking a potentially harmful “death shot,” which they argue is responsible for causing a range of serious health problems. These include strokes, heart attacks, myocarditis, autoimmune dysfunction, infertility, and cancer, with some suggesting that the vaccines may exacerbate the effects of the virus through antibody-dependent enhancement.

The Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Historical and Modern Analysis

Introduction

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The pharmaceutical industry plays a significant role during pandemics, particularly in the development of vaccines and treatments. However, recent controversies surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic have raised questions about the industry's motives, its relationship with government entities, and the potential risks associated with vaccine technologies. Critics assert that the COVID-19 vaccines, promoted as the solution to the global health crisis, have been linked to various health issues, including myocarditis, compromised immunity, and increased deaths among the vaccinated.

The Emergence of the COVID-19 Pandemic and Vaccine Development

In 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic sparked a global health emergency. Pharmaceutical companies raced to develop vaccines, leading to the rapid deployment of treatments such as the Pfizer-BioNTech and Moderna mRNA vaccines. These vaccines promised immunity against the virus but were not without controversy. Questions arose about the speed of their development, the safety of the mRNA technology used, and the financial interests at play.

A notable concern was the emergence of the mRNA vaccine’s long-term effects on human health. Viral immunologists like Dr. Jessica Rose raised alarms about the possibility of compromised immunity in vaccinated individuals, warning that T-cell function might be impaired, leading to vulnerability to other infections (source: Telegram).

Financial and Political Connections: A Web of Influence

Documents revealed that, in 2015, a partnership between the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) and Moderna was established to jointly own the coronavirus vaccine technology. This agreement raised suspicions, with critics suggesting that the pandemic may have been engineered or at least anticipated by certain global powers to serve economic and political agendas (source: Red Voice Media).

Further investigations revealed that the vaccine rollout coincided with significant financial incentives for pharmaceutical companies and hospitals. For instance, hospitals were reportedly compensated more for admitting COVID-19 patients and placing them on ventilators, creating potential conflicts of interest (source: Telegram).

Vaccine Safety and Health Impacts

Several whistleblowers and experts have raised concerns about the safety of the COVID-19 vaccines. Reports emerged of severe side effects such as myocarditis, particularly in children, with studies suggesting that vaccine-induced heart inflammation is far more common than initially acknowledged (source: Telegram).

Moreover, there were reports of sudden deaths among individuals, including pilots, attributed to vaccine-related complications (source: Telegram). Despite these alarming reports, many studies and peer-reviewed papers critical of the vaccines were allegedly suppressed or retracted.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

A concerning development was the revelation that some batches of the vaccine contained potentially harmful substances, including spike proteins and oncogenes, substances associated with cancer development (source: Telegram). This information sparked debates about the true purpose of the vaccines and the involvement of global elites in their design.

The Role of the Media and Public Perception

The media played a significant role in shaping public perception of the COVID-19 vaccines. Critics argue that the mainstream media, in collaboration with pharmaceutical giants, worked to suppress negative information and promote a narrative that the vaccines were the only solution to the pandemic. Whistleblowers, like former FEMA official Celeste Solum, claimed that the PCR tests used to diagnose COVID-19 were not truly diagnostic but part of a larger plan to implant microchips and nanobots into the population (source: Telegram).

This narrative, fueled by government and media entities, was described by some as a form of psychological warfare, with accusations of manipulating the public into accepting what many considered dangerous medical interventions.

The Question of Eugenics and Global Control

Another central theme in the discourse surrounding the COVID-19 vaccines is the alleged connection to eugenics. Dr. Vladimir Zev Zelenko and others have suggested that the vaccines are part of a larger plan orchestrated by global elites with the aim of reducing the world's population and exerting control over individuals. These theories are often intertwined with the idea that the pharmaceutical industry, along with government entities, is using pandemics as a means of exercising power and control (source: GETTR).

Zelenko and other critics argue that the widespread push for vaccine mandates, along with the development of COVID-19 vaccine passports, is a direct attempt to enslave humanity through biometric surveillance and forced compliance (source: Telegram).

The Decline of Critical Thinking

One of the most disturbing elements of the pandemic and vaccine rollout, according to some critics, has been the erosion of critical thinking among the general population. There are claims that the public's willingness to accept government mandates without questioning the science or the motivations behind them is a result of decades of educational manipulation and pharmaceutical influence (source: Telegram).

Furthermore, there is concern about the role of social media in suppressing dissenting opinions and promoting one-sided narratives. The widespread censorship of alternative health treatments, such as ivermectin and hydroxychloroquine, has fueled accusations of a conspiracy to control the narrative and suppress cures that could potentially undermine the global vaccine agenda (source: Telegram).

Conclusion

The intersection of the pharmaceutical industry, government entities, and the media during the COVID-19 pandemic has led to a complex web of controversy and conspiracy theories. While vaccines have undeniably played a role in combating the pandemic, the associated health risks, financial interests, and political ramifications have raised significant ethical concerns. As more information emerges, it becomes increasingly important for the public to critically examine the narratives surrounding pandemics and the pharmaceutical industry's role in shaping global health policies.

Conclusion, A New Era of Scrutiny

The relationship between the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and vaccines is undeniably complex. While vaccines have been hailed as the key to ending the COVID-19 pandemic, their efficacy and safety have been called into question by several sources. Furthermore, the pandemic's economic impact has disproportionately benefited the wealthiest individuals, raising concerns about the profit-driven motives behind the global response. As the situation continues to evolve, it remains crucial to critically examine the role of pharmaceutical companies, the safety and effectiveness of the vaccines, and the broader implications of the pandemic's management. The intersection of the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and vaccine development has led to a wide range of opinions and concerns. From the safety of vaccines to the role of government mandates and the possible long-term effects of COVID-19 testing and vaccination, the issues raised are complex and multifaceted. While many of the claims and theories surrounding these topics remain unproven, the ongoing debates continue to shape public perception and influence policy decisions worldwide.

As we move forward, it is essential that transparent discussions take place, backed by scientific evidence, to ensure that public health strategies are both effective and ethical. The impact of the pandemic and the response from the pharmaceutical industry will continue to resonate for years to come.

The COVID-19 pandemic and the global response to it have brought the pharmaceutical industry into the spotlight like never before. While vaccines have undeniably played a crucial role in mitigating the spread of the virus, they have also sparked debates over safety, ethics, and the motives behind their rapid development and deployment. The ongoing scrutiny of Big Pharma, public health agencies, and political leaders will likely continue as new information surfaces, and as the world grapples with the long-term effects of the pandemic and its aftermath.

This overview reflects widespread distrust in the pharmaceutical industry and global health governance. The allegations underscore a perceived interplay of profit motives, geopolitical power, and ethical lapses in handling pandemics. Further investigation and transparency are essential to address these claims and restore public trust.

This document underscores the complexity of public discourse on pandemics and vaccines. It highlights a pressing need for transparency, ethical accountability, and open dialogue to address widespread concerns. Additional updates will continue to refine and expand upon the outlined themes.

Pharmaceutical Industry, Pandemics, and Vaccines: A Critical Examination

Introduction

The pharmaceutical industry has long been central to discussions surrounding global health crises, particularly pandemics. However, recent scrutiny has uncovered alarming patterns that suggest not only questionable practices but also a potential underlying agenda within the industry. A deeper dive into these allegations reveals troubling correlations between pharmaceutical interventions, the rise of pandemics, and the advent of new technologies that could have far-reaching implications for humanity.

The Rise of Pandemics and Bioweapons

Pandemics have been a consistent feature of human history, but recent events have sparked a controversial theory: that pandemics, particularly the COVID-19 crisis, might not be natural occurrences but manufactured ones. There is a growing body of evidence suggesting that bioweapons, such as viruses engineered for mass disruption, may have been released intentionally. The COVID-19 outbreak, in particular, is cited by some as a deliberate act, with the intention to manipulate the global population, control the economy, and introduce sweeping measures for surveillance and control. According to various sources, the timing of the pandemic, the rapid development of mRNA vaccines, and the rollout of 5G technologies raise serious questions about the true origin of COVID-19 and its potential links to bioweapons.

The Role of Vaccines and Big Pharma

Vaccines, particularly the mRNA-based COVID-19 vaccines, have become the focal point of heated debates. While vaccines have long been hailed as a cornerstone of modern medicine, new concerns about their safety and effectiveness have emerged, especially following the global rollout of the COVID-19 vaccine. According to several whistleblower reports and studies, adverse reactions have skyrocketed post-vaccination. Data from the Defense Medical Epidemiology Database (DMED) reports a shocking 2,800% increase in myocarditis cases and up to 900% increases in various forms of cancer, neurological disorders, and infertility. These alarming statistics suggest that the vaccines, rather than offering protection, may be contributing to widespread harm.

The vaccines are alleged to contain harmful substances, including graphene oxide, HIV proteins, and luciferase, which are believed by some to serve a dual purpose: genetic modification and population control. Critics argue that the pharmaceutical companies, in collaboration with global elites, have redefined the term "vaccine" to include gene therapies that go far beyond traditional immunizations.

The Unseen Dangers: 5G and Surveillance

The rollout of 5G technology has raised concerns that its true purpose may extend far beyond providing faster internet speeds. Some theorists claim that 5G towers are not just for communication but serve as advanced surveillance tools and even as mind control devices. It is suggested that 5G frequencies can influence human emotions and behavior, from inducing anxiety to altering thought patterns. Combined with the widespread use of biometric surveillance and tracking through vaccines, the push for 5G may be part of a larger agenda to create a totalitarian control system.

The Emergence of a New World Order?

Some believe that the pandemic, combined with the global push for vaccines and the advancement of 5G technology, is a deliberate move towards a New World Order. This alleged agenda envisions a one-world government, a global surveillance system, and a cashless society controlled by central authorities. The ultimate goal is said to be the subjugation of the masses, with the elites remaining untouched by these systems. According to these claims, the mRNA vaccines and 5G are tools for genetic control and population management, designed to ensure that only the chosen few remain unaffected.

The Controversial Intersection of Medicine and Control

The pharmaceutical industry is accused of manipulating not just medicine, but entire populations, through the promotion of synthetic drugs and vaccines that mask symptoms rather than cure diseases. The shift from natural remedies to synthetic medications, critics argue, is a deliberate move to create lifelong dependence on pharmaceutical companies. This has been compounded by the rise of digital health systems and biometric monitoring, which some see as a pathway to control and subjugation. The purported goal of these systems is not to improve public health but to monitor, control, and profit from individuals' lives.

The Road Ahead: Will the Truth Prevail?

The future remains uncertain, with many questions left unanswered about the true motivations behind global health policies, vaccination campaigns, and technological advancements. What is clear, however, is the need for continued vigilance and critical examination of the forces at play. The growing concerns about the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and the potential misuse of technology require transparent investigations and open discourse.

As we move forward, it is crucial that the public remains informed, questioning the narratives presented by the media and government authorities. Whether the current crises are part of a larger scheme or the result of negligence remains to be seen, but the stakes are undeniably high.

Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Historical Perspective

The pharmaceutical industry has long been a subject of controversy, especially in the context of pandemics and vaccines. Many argue that its influence has deepened with the rise of global health crises, particularly during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Rise of Pharmaceutical Power

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

One of the central claims within the provided material is the assertion that Big Pharma, particularly since the early 20th century, has become a powerful and sometimes malevolent force. The Rockefeller family is often cited as a key player in shaping modern medicine, using its wealth and influence to foster pharmaceutical monopolies. Critics of the industry argue that it has shifted the focus of healthcare from curing disease to managing chronic illness for profit. This notion is linked to the theory that pharmaceutical companies have used crises—such as pandemics—not only as opportunities for profit but as a means to control the public.

The COVID-19 Pandemic: A Bioweapon or a Manufactured Crisis?

The COVID-19 pandemic has fueled conspiracy theories regarding the pharmaceutical industry's role in global health emergencies. A central theme in the narrative is that the pandemic was deliberately engineered to drive a new wave of vaccine mandates, while simultaneously suppressing treatments that could have mitigated the virus's impact. Some argue that the virus itself, often referred to as the "Chyna virus," was a bioweapon, a theory fueled by suspicions surrounding the origins of SARS-CoV-2 and the early stages of the pandemic.

Vaccines and the "Clotshot" Debate

The COVID-19 vaccine, particularly the mRNA vaccines, has been at the heart of the controversy. Dr. Robert Malone, recognized as one of the pioneers of mRNA technology, has been both censored and celebrated in various circles for his stance on the vaccine. Malone has expressed concerns about the rapid rollout of the vaccine, particularly its lack of long-term safety data. Conversely, his critics, particularly within mainstream media and political circles, argue that his views have been co-opted by anti-vaccine conspiracists to sow confusion and fear.

Meanwhile, the development of vaccines has been hailed as a medical breakthrough by many experts, though some remain cautious, pointing to the unprecedented speed of their approval and deployment. The rise of vaccine-related adverse events has only intensified scrutiny, with claims that the vaccine may be causing more harm than good, including rare but severe side effects like myocarditis and blood clots. These claims have led to heated debates regarding the ethics of mass vaccination campaigns.

The Role of the Media and Big Tech in Shaping Public Perception

The mainstream media and social media platforms have played pivotal roles in either promoting or suppressing information about the pandemic and vaccines. While many reports have focused on the benefits of vaccination and the urgency of preventing viral spread, others have raised concerns about the suppression of dissenting opinions. Figures such as Dr. Peter McCullough and Dr. Vladimir Zelenko, both outspoken critics of the official pandemic response, have been marginalized, while others with more mainstream views have enjoyed widespread promotion. This divide highlights a broader issue of information control during health crises.

Mass Psychosis and Public Manipulation

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

An emerging concept in discussions surrounding the pandemic is "mass formation psychosis," which posits that large groups of people can be manipulated into a state of mass hysteria, leading them to follow government mandates without question. This theory suggests that the public's willingness to comply with restrictions such as lockdowns, mask mandates, and vaccine requirements was a form of mass psychosis, exacerbated by fear and government rhetoric.

The argument goes further, claiming that the pharmaceutical industry's ties to global power structures, including the media and political elites, created a perfect storm for psychological manipulation. Critics of this view argue that it oversimplifies the complexities of the pandemic response and ignores the genuine threat posed by COVID-19.

The Pfizer and Moderna Vaccines: Unintended Consequences?

The vaccines developed by Pfizer and Moderna have been lauded as effective tools in curbing the spread of COVID-19. However, some voices have raised alarms about their composition and potential side effects. One of the key concerns highlighted is the presence of graphene oxide in the vaccines, which some believe could lead to toxicity. While there has been little scientific backing for these claims, the notion of corporate malfeasance has fueled skepticism about the pharmaceutical giants' intentions.

PCR Testing: A Tool for Control?

Another critical element in the narrative is the use of PCR testing during the pandemic. Initially seen as an essential tool for tracking the spread of the virus, the test has come under scrutiny for its perceived inaccuracy. Critics argue that the PCR test was not designed to detect COVID-19 specifically and that it may have been used to inflate case numbers. The CDC's eventual withdrawal of the emergency use authorization for the PCR test in 2021, after it was acknowledged that the test could not distinguish between COVID-19 and the flu, gave weight to these concerns. This withdrawal was seen by some as a belated admission of the test's flaws, undermining its role in the pandemic response.

The Allegations of Vaccine-Induced Deaths and Cover-Ups

There has been a persistent narrative in some circles suggesting that the COVID-19 vaccine has led to widespread deaths and severe adverse reactions, including myocarditis and blood clotting disorders. While mainstream health organizations like the CDC and WHO have maintained that the benefits of vaccination outweigh the risks, these claims have fueled suspicions that vaccine-related deaths are being downplayed or covered up. Some allegations go so far as to claim that the medical establishment, including doctors and hospitals, has been complicit in underreporting vaccine-related injuries for fear of losing funding or facing legal action.

Nuremberg Trials and Accountability

The comparison between the actions of the pharmaceutical industry and the atrocities committed by Nazi Germany during World War II has been a recurring theme. Some critics argue that those who are complicit in the mass administration of COVID-19 vaccines, particularly when they are allegedly linked to harmful effects, should face accountability similar to the Nuremberg Trials. This analogy highlights the ethical dilemma surrounding the pandemic response and the role of public health officials in promoting widespread vaccination.

Pharmaceutical Industry, Pandemics, and Vaccines: A Critical Examination

The relationship between the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and vaccines has been a topic of intense scrutiny, especially in light of the COVID-19 pandemic. From the development of vaccines to the implementation of mandates and the responses from government bodies, several significant issues have surfaced.

1. Vaccine Development and Testing Issues

Reports of problems with vaccine testing, particularly in animal trials, raised early concerns. It was revealed in a 2020 Senate hearing that animal vaccine trials were halted prematurely due to severe adverse reactions, sparking concerns about the safety of these vaccines for human use. This led some to suggest that the public became the test subjects, as these concerns were not fully addressed before vaccine rollout.

The rapid development of COVID-19 vaccines, such as those from Pfizer, Moderna, and Johnson & Johnson, also generated questions about the integrity of the testing processes. The rollout was accompanied by increasing reports of adverse events, including serious conditions such as myocarditis, blood clots, and even deaths. Some have claimed that the vaccine's risks were downplayed to accelerate approval for mass distribution, creating a sense of distrust in both the pharmaceutical industry and the government agencies overseeing these processes.

2. The Role of the Pharmaceutical Industry

The pharmaceutical industry's influence in the pandemic response has been a focal point of criticism. The industry's significant financial power raised questions about the motivations behind rapid vaccine approval and distribution. Critics argue that the pharmaceutical companies were driven by profit, with government and regulatory bodies acting as facilitators.

Reports have surfaced suggesting that vaccines were developed with the help of high-level governmental ties, and various whistleblowers have exposed what they describe as a coordinated effort to suppress alternative treatments such as Ivermectin. Some experts argue that these treatments, which were proven effective in early trials, were overshadowed by the push for vaccination, largely due to political and financial interests.

3. PCR Testing and Potential Health Risks

The widespread use of PCR tests to detect COVID-19 has also raised concerns. Former FEMA whistleblowers and other experts have claimed that the tests were not only ineffective but potentially harmful, suggesting that they could have been used to implant microchips or other harmful devices into individuals. The insertion of the nasopharyngeal swab, which reaches the blood-brain barrier, was cited as a point of vulnerability for these alleged attacks on the human body. However, these claims remain controversial and unverified.

Despite the uncertainty around their potential effects, PCR tests became a cornerstone of pandemic monitoring, with millions of tests being administered globally. Meanwhile, the tests' efficacy in accurately detecting COVID-19 has been questioned, especially given the rapid changes in virus variants that did not always match the test's capabilities.

4. Impact on Public Health and Safety

The vaccine rollout, which began in December 2020, quickly became a contentious issue. Reports from sources such as the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) documented numerous adverse events, including severe health conditions and deaths. Some advocates of vaccine safety argue that these adverse events were not properly reported or were downplayed by health authorities.

The narrative surrounding COVID-19 vaccines was further complicated by differing messages about vaccine efficacy. Initially hailed as a solution to the pandemic, vaccines were later shown to offer reduced effectiveness over time, particularly against new variants like Delta and Omicron. This led to the push for booster shots, which created further division and suspicion about the long-term safety and necessity of continued vaccination.

5. Political and Social Ramifications

The political implications of vaccine mandates were profound. In 2021, President Biden's administration proposed a vaccine mandate for federal employees, which sparked debates over individual rights versus public health safety. The mandate was later challenged in court, with appeals courts ruling against the imposition of vaccine requirements for private employees, citing constitutional concerns.

Socially, the pandemic and vaccine mandates led to significant polarization. Public figures, including doctors and health experts, were divided over the safety and effectiveness of vaccines, with some strongly advocating for them while others raised alarms about the risks. A growing body of evidence suggested that the unvaccinated were less likely to experience severe disease, while vaccinated individuals still experienced breakthrough infections, leading to further skepticism about the vaccines' promised benefits.

6. Theories and Alternative Perspectives

Alongside mainstream narratives, numerous alternative theories have emerged, claiming that the pandemic was orchestrated for financial gain, population control, or as a means to push forward technological advancements like microchips and genetic modification. These theories, though widely contested, have gained traction in certain circles, fueled by distrust in government and pharmaceutical companies.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

One of the most controversial ideas to emerge was the claim that the vaccines were designed to alter human genetics, with some suggesting that the mRNA technology used in vaccines could result in permanent genetic changes. This claim, although unsubstantiated, has become a focal point for those opposed to vaccination.

In addition, many have pointed to the development of synthetic biology, CRISPR technology, and nanotechnology as potential tools that could be used to alter human biology in ways that are not yet fully understood.

The Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Critical Overview

The pharmaceutical industry, particularly its role in the development and distribution of vaccines during the COVID-19 pandemic, has been the subject of much debate and scrutiny. The onset of the pandemic revealed stark contrasts between the fortunes of pharmaceutical companies and the struggles faced by the general public. While many individuals were grappling with the economic fallout of lockdowns and health concerns, the wealth of billionaires surged significantly. In the early days of the pandemic, the wealth of the top 10 richest individuals was $695 billion; by mid-2021, it had more than doubled to $1.36 trillion, with nine individuals now surpassing the $100 billion mark in net worth. This stark increase in wealth raises questions about the pandemic's financial impact and its relationship to the pharmaceutical industry's profit-driven motives.

Vaccines and the Intent Behind Mass Vaccination

As the pandemic progressed, the goal of mass vaccination became a central policy around the world. However, the effectiveness of vaccines, particularly in terms of preventing infection and transmission, has been questioned. For instance, Gibraltar, the most vaccinated country on earth, with over 99% of its population fully vaccinated by June 1, 2021, saw an increase in new COVID-19 cases from 1 to 25 per day. This led the country to reintroduce lockdown measures. Similar trends have been observed in other highly vaccinated countries such as Israel, the United Kingdom, Malta, and Iceland. Despite high vaccination rates, these nations faced rising COVID-19 cases, prompting many to question the efficacy of the vaccines in preventing transmission and the need for continuous lockdowns.

Data from Johns Hopkins and the CDC also highlighted that the countries with the highest vaccination rates were often among those listed as high or very high COVID-19 travel risk zones. The CDC's findings raised concerns about the safety of travel to vaccinated nations, suggesting that vaccination alone did not protect against the virus's spread.

The situation was further complicated by the high rates of false positives produced by PCR testing, which in many countries were set to high cycle thresholds (35-45), leading to up to 90% false positives. These issues raised alarms over the reliability of mass testing, contributing to the growing skepticism about the pandemic response.

The Efficacy and Side Effects of the Vaccine

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

The promise of COVID-19 vaccines was that they would stop the virus's spread and protect individuals from severe illness or death. However, as the pandemic unfolded, questions arose about the vaccines' true benefits. Initially, individuals were told that vaccination would reduce the likelihood of infection, stop transmission, and return life to normal. Yet, the reality proved more complex. The governments of several countries stated that even after vaccination, individuals should continue wearing masks, practice social distancing, and avoid large gatherings. Moreover, it became clear that the vaccines did not guarantee immunity, nor did they prevent individuals from becoming infected or transmitting the virus.

In addition to these concerns, there were reports of adverse reactions following vaccination. Autopsies of individuals who died post-vaccination revealed spike proteins in various organs, raising alarm over the long-term effects of the vaccines. These concerns fueled skepticism about the safety of the vaccines, especially when considering the rare but severe side effects such as myocarditis, neurological diseases, miscarriages, and infertility that were reported by some individuals after receiving the vaccine.

The Role of Bioweapons and Early Intervention

There is growing speculation about the origins of COVID-19, with some claiming that it was a man-made bioweapon intentionally released to cause global panic and chaos. This theory suggests that the virus was engineered to destabilize the world and increase control over populations. The narrative further argues that treatments such as Hydroxychloroquine and ivermectin, which were reported to be effective in treating COVID-19 in its early stages, were intentionally vilified by mainstream media and pharmaceutical companies to push the agenda of mass vaccination.

The widespread dissemination of these claims has added to the divisive debate surrounding the pandemic and the response of global health authorities. According to proponents of this theory, the mass vaccination campaign is a coercive measure to push people into taking a potentially harmful “death shot,” which they argue is responsible for causing a range of serious health problems. These include strokes, heart attacks, myocarditis, autoimmune dysfunction, infertility, and cancer, with some suggesting that the vaccines may exacerbate the effects of the virus through antibody-dependent enhancement.

The Pharmaceutical Industry and Pandemics: A Historical and Modern Analysis

Introduction

The pharmaceutical industry plays a significant role during pandemics, particularly in the development of vaccines and treatments. However, recent controversies surrounding the COVID-19 pandemic have raised questions about the industry's motives, its relationship with government entities, and the potential risks associated with vaccine technologies. Critics assert that the COVID-19 vaccines, promoted as the solution to the global health crisis, have been linked to various health issues, including myocarditis, compromised immunity, and increased deaths among the vaccinated.

The Emergence of the COVID-19 Pandemic and Vaccine Development

In 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic sparked a global health emergency. Pharmaceutical companies raced to develop vaccines, leading to the rapid deployment of treatments such as the Pfizer-BioNTech and Moderna mRNA vaccines. These vaccines promised immunity against the virus but were not without controversy. Questions arose about the speed of their development, the safety of the mRNA technology used, and the financial interests at play.

A notable concern was the emergence of the mRNA vaccine's long-term effects on human health. Viral immunologists like Dr. Jessica Rose raised alarms about the possibility of compromised immunity in vaccinated individuals, warning that T-cell function might be impaired, leading to vulnerability to other infections (source: Telegram).

Financial and Political Connections: A Web of Influence

Documents revealed that, in 2015, a partnership between the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) and Moderna was established to jointly own the coronavirus vaccine technology. This agreement raised suspicions, with critics suggesting that the pandemic may have been engineered or at least anticipated by certain global powers to serve economic and political agendas (source: Red Voice Media).

Further investigations revealed that the vaccine rollout coincided with significant financial incentives for pharmaceutical companies and hospitals. For instance, hospitals were reportedly compensated more for admitting COVID-19 patients and placing them on ventilators, creating potential conflicts of interest (source: Telegram).

Vaccine Safety and Health Impacts

Several whistleblowers and experts have raised concerns about the safety of the COVID-19 vaccines. Reports emerged of severe side effects such as myocarditis, particularly in children, with studies suggesting that vaccine-induced heart inflammation is far more common than initially acknowledged (source: Telegram).

Moreover, there were reports of sudden deaths among individuals, including pilots, attributed to vaccine-related complications (source: Telegram). Despite these alarming reports, many studies and peer-reviewed papers critical of the vaccines were allegedly suppressed or retracted.

A concerning development was the revelation that some batches of the vaccine contained potentially harmful substances, including spike proteins and oncogenes, substances associated with cancer development (source: Telegram). This information sparked debates about the true purpose of the vaccines and the involvement of global elites in their design.

The Role of the Media and Public Perception

The media played a significant role in shaping public perception of the COVID-19 vaccines. Critics argue that the mainstream media, in collaboration with pharmaceutical giants, worked to suppress negative information and promote a narrative that the vaccines were the only solution to the pandemic. Whistleblowers, like former FEMA official Celeste Solum, claimed that the PCR tests used to diagnose COVID-19 were not truly diagnostic but part of a larger plan to implant microchips and nanobots into the population (source: Telegram).

This narrative, fueled by government and media entities, was described by some as a form of psychological warfare, with accusations of manipulating the public into accepting what many considered dangerous medical interventions.

The Question of Eugenics and Global Control

Another central theme in the discourse surrounding the COVID-19 vaccines is the alleged connection to eugenics. Dr. Vladimir Zev Zelenko and others have suggested that the vaccines are part of a larger plan orchestrated by global elites with the aim of reducing the world's population and exerting control over individuals. These theories are often intertwined with the idea that the pharmaceutical industry, along with government entities, is using pandemics as a means of exercising power and control (source: GETTR).

Zelenko and other critics argue that the widespread push for vaccine mandates, along with the development of COVID-19 vaccine passports, is a direct attempt to enslave humanity through biometric surveillance and forced compliance (source: Telegram).

The Decline of Critical Thinking

One of the most disturbing elements of the pandemic and vaccine rollout, according to some critics, has been the erosion of critical thinking among the general population. There are claims that the public's willingness to accept government mandates without questioning the science or the motivations behind them is a result of decades of educational manipulation and pharmaceutical influence (source: Telegram).

Furthermore, there is concern about the role of social media in suppressing dissenting opinions and promoting one-sided narratives. The widespread censorship of alternative health treatments, such as ivermectin and hydroxychloroquine, has fueled accusations of a conspiracy to control the narrative and suppress cures that could potentially undermine the global vaccine agenda (source: Telegram).

Conclusion

The intersection of the pharmaceutical industry, government entities, and the media during the COVID-19 pandemic has led to a complex web of controversy and conspiracy theories. While vaccines have undeniably played a role in combating the pandemic, the associated health risks, financial interests, and political ramifications have raised significant ethical concerns. As more information emerges, it becomes increasingly important for the public to critically examine the narratives surrounding pandemics and the pharmaceutical industry's role in shaping global health policies.

Conclusion, A New Era of Scrutiny

The relationship between the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and vaccines is undeniably complex. While vaccines have been hailed as the key to ending the COVID-19 pandemic, their efficacy and safety have been called into question by several sources. Furthermore, the pandemic's economic impact has disproportionately benefited the wealthiest individuals, raising concerns about the profit-driven motives behind the global response. As the situation continues to evolve, it remains crucial to critically examine the role of pharmaceutical companies, the safety and effectiveness of the vaccines, and the broader implications of the pandemic's management. The intersection of the pharmaceutical industry, pandemics, and vaccine development has led to a wide range of opinions and concerns. From the safety of vaccines to the role of government mandates and the possible long-term effects of COVID-19 testing and vaccination, the issues raised are complex and multifaceted. While many of the claims and theories surrounding these topics remain unproven, the ongoing debates continue to shape public perception and influence policy decisions worldwide.

As we move forward, it is essential that transparent discussions take place, backed by scientific evidence, to ensure that public health strategies are both effective and ethical. The impact of the pandemic and the response from the pharmaceutical industry will continue to resonate for years to come.

The COVID-19 pandemic and the global response to it have brought the pharmaceutical industry into the spotlight like never before. While vaccines have undeniably played a crucial role in mitigating the spread of the virus, they have also sparked debates over safety, ethics, and the motives behind their rapid development and deployment. The ongoing scrutiny of Big Pharma, public health agencies, and political leaders will likely continue as new information surfaces, and as the world grapples with the long-term effects of the pandemic and its aftermath.

This overview reflects widespread distrust in the pharmaceutical industry and global health governance. The allegations underscore a perceived interplay of profit motives, geopolitical power, and ethical lapses in handling pandemics. Further investigation and transparency are essential to address these claims and restore public trust.

This document underscores the complexity of public discourse on pandemics and vaccines. It highlights a pressing need for transparency, ethical accountability, and open dialogue to address widespread concerns. Additional updates will continue to refine and expand upon the outlined themes.

https://realrawnews.com/2022/07/wasp-venom-found-in-child-covid-shots/ Wasp venom in the vaccines aimed at children.

This is how you know you are living in an upside down world-

1) Ivermectin: won the Nobel Prize in human medicine in 2015; is safer than Tylenol (associated with 1/7th the number of deaths that Tylenol is associated with); has been given safely 3.7 Billion times around the world; has decades of safe use; has over 70 studies showing its effective use in Covid-19.

And yet, it is demonized by many politicians, by the CDC, by the FDA, and by all of corporate media. It is so "unsafe" in their view that they are taking steps that are unprecedented: revoking the licenses of many doctors who have prescribed this safe, FDA-approved medication. They call it "horse paste" and the FDA literally tweeted out to people to stop taking it because they're not horses. And this, despite the fact that it has literally CURED a HUMAN disease (river blindness) and won the Nobel Prize for that. It eliminated a terrible human disease. And the FDA has the audacity to claim it is an animal medicine.

2) Paxlovid: Pfizer's newest Covid drug. Can cause liver and kidney damage. One of the components (ritonavir) has a black box warning. It leads to a bizarre "rebound Covid" (never heard of before Paxlovid). It's so new that it is not even FDA-approved. Only available under EUA because it hasn't been through standard safety testing. But the claim is that the Covid pandemic is so serious that we have to be willing to try everything (Hmmm … If that logic applies to Paxlovid—a new & untested medication—why doesn't it apply to ivermectin, an FDA-approved medication with decades of safe use?). And now the FDA is allowing pharmacists to prescribe and administer Paxlovid to patients? This is unprecedented. Not even doctors can prescribe and dispense a medication. That's why we have the division between doctors and pharmacists. That's why doctors can't just increase profitability by doing the job of a pharmacist in-house. And yet, now your CVS pharmacist is going to be able to do the job of a doctor in-house at his pharmacy? Is the pharmacist going to be required to take a full History & Physical and make sure that you don't take medications that interact with Paxlovid? Is he going to be required to know your full medical history so that he doesn't prescribe and administer it to patients in whom it is contraindicated? And all this for an EUA medication? We're going turn upside down the entire practice of medicine (allowing pharmacists to play doctor) all for an ineffective (or, at least, inadequately effective) medicine that hasn't even been FDA-approved?

Did I wake up in the Twilight Zone? Yes I understand they want to make money. What I don't get is the blatant disregard for human health in a field where that is our only concern!

this gem from the "illuminati" card game from 1982. I have been saying since the release of the 5G technology. 5G Towers are actually Psi-Weapons, they have nothing to do with high speed internet. They can specifically target part of the brains nervous system that they want in order to make you feel more docile, angry, sad, or anxious, depending on the situation and desired outcome. This technology has been known for a very long time, even prior to WW1, it was used to break the spirits of their enemies, where these frequencies can become too much to handle, installing 5G towers/antennas all around the Earth is much more convenient.5G = Pentagram. They are literally broadcasting black magic.

An excerpt from The New World Order, published by Ralph Epprson in 1989. A page in this book mentions 5G and the vaccine. It says:

"Exposure to 5G radiation will further attack the immune system. Thus, when people emerge into society, more people will fall ill. They will blame it on COVID-19"

-The shot contains the following capabilities: 1. Population control; 2. Surveillance 24/7; 3. Genetic modification

1. population control through

-immediate death

-miscarriages and infertility

-shorten life through chronic illness

2. Surveillance through the implantation of biometric transmitter that permits access to new global cryptocurrency system

3. Use mRNA and crispr-cas9 technology to re-engineer humanity

LET SINK THIS IN

Here's a question

Q. Who should have won the 2016 US Presidential Election

A. Trump

B. Hillary Clinton

Here's another question..

Q. What would you prefer as WW3

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

A. Psychological warfare, coercion and the people using their own decision to get a “vaccine”, some being placebo, some a flu shot, some a clotshot

B. Global nuclear Armageddon

And one last question..

Q. Which will cause more death in the previous question

A The Covid jab

B A global nuclear war

It’s wise to remember that Trump forced the hand of the cabal as he knew the jab was already made in 2018. This brave action destroyed the need for lockdowns, which were not supposed to end until late 2024 and the jabs released from 2025. Trump getting the jab released early justified an end to the lockdowns and an end to the Emergency Usage Act, again forcing big pharma to seek proper FDA approval of a commercial vaccine, which the FDA would never have given approval for. This is why they came up with new strains, to keep the EUA and lockdowns. This also caused the cabal to speed things up, they made mistakes, and people started to wake up earlier, and quicker.

Yep, us antivax conspiracy analysts are the problem, not:

https://t.me/usaawakening/647 As we’ve known from the beginning, vaccines are worse than crap. Now MSM starting to have to admit it as they’re unable to continue to suppress the data.

At Nuremburg, only following orders did not wash meant, all involved were executed. They should have known better. There are no excuses for being complicit with evil. None. So, those giving vaccinations, telling you to get them, forcing the wearing of masks thereby echoing the evil narrative, dead as well. Time to speak up against as time is running out.

Use it to put public officials, State AGs, and law enforcement on notice for why their actions are unlawful.

Title 18 of the United States Code, Sections 241 and 242 criminalize conspiracy against rights and the deprivation of rights under color of law. In order words, they make it a criminal offense for public officials to go beyond the limits of their authority to strip away the public's rights. The law applies to police, judges, elected officials, and yes, public health officials as well as health care providers at public facilities.

Discoveries and Studies:

Dr. Young Mi Lee and Dr. Daniel Broudy's Research:

- Isolated unused vaccine vials for 3 weeks and examined them under 400X magnification.
- Observed nanotechnology forming "discs, chains, spirals, tubes, and right-angle structures."
- Published findings in the International Journal of Vaccine Theory Practice and Research.
    - Suggested these nanoparticles contribute to "turbo cancer" and autoimmune diseases.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

- Hypothesized involvement in a "synthetic global central nervous system," potentially converting humans into "Biohybrid Magnetic Robots."
- Called for a global ban on mRNA shots and removal of labels like “Safe and Effective.”

Events and Emergencies:

Japan (11 Aug. 2024):

- Declared a state of emergency after detecting nanobots in 96 million citizens.

WHO Declaration (14 Aug. 2024):

- Declared Monkeypox a "public health emergency of international concern."
- Accusations surfaced that Monkeypox was included in the AstraZeneca vaccine to support global control measures by the WHO and affiliated entities.

COVID-19 Fraud Allegations:

Claims:

- SARS-CoV-2, the purported causal agent of COVID-19, has not been proven to exist naturally.
- COVID-19 is described as an engineered crisis to impose experimental and hazardous injections globally.
  - Injections include a computer-generated spike protein mRNA sequence.
  - Allegedly contains undeclared non-biological elements.
- Organizations such as Big Pharma, WHO, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation are accused of orchestrating this fraud.

Key Assertions:

- Democratic governments used the pandemic to erode human rights and enforce experimental injections.
- SARS-CoV-2 has not been isolated to confirm its role as the disease's causal agent.
- These measures are linked to a larger global agenda involving surveillance and control mechanisms.

Historical Predictions:

- 1992 Book by Former CIA Agent John Coleman:
  - Predicted a "post-industrial" world with globalist technocrats.
  - Claimed a plan to reduce the global population by 4 billion through wars, epidemics, and starvation by 2050.

Vaccine Adverse Effects and Controversies:

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

Nanotechnology in mRNA Vaccines:

- Self-assembling nanotechnology in Pfizer and Moderna COVID mRNA vaccines linked to turbo cancer and autoimmune diseases.

Impact on Infants:

1. Biochemical and Photonic Interactions:
    - Vaccine adjuvants like aluminum and mercury linked to oxidative stress and inflammation.
2. Immune Overload:
    - Rapid administration of multiple vaccines overwhelms infant immune systems, potentially causing chronic inflammation and autoimmunity.
3. Neurological Impacts:
    - Aluminum and thimerosal linked to neurodevelopmental disorders and neurotoxicity.
4. Endocrine Disruption:
    - Potential contributions to hypothyroidism and gender dysphoria.

Rising Health Concerns:

- Vaccines suspected of weakening immune systems, leading to surges in RSV and other infections.
- Microbiome disruptions attributed to vaccine schedules.

Global Governance and Vaccine Policies:

WHO's Expanded Powers:

- Proposed modifications to grant the WHO authority to declare public health emergencies and enforce measures globally.
    - Mandatory vaccines.
    - Experimental gene therapy.
    - Forced relocation under climate change pretexts.

Allegations Against WHO:

- Accused of facilitating a globalist agenda under the guise of health policy.
- Critics, including President Trump, warned against relinquishing national sovereignty to WHO directives.

Summary:

The information presented raises questions about the safety, efficacy, and intent behind global vaccination programs. Claims of undisclosed components, adverse effects, and overarching control mechanisms demand thorough investigation and transparency.

Abstract

· COVID-19 is a fraud because its alleged causal agent, a purported novel coronavirus called SARS-CoV-2, has not been proven to exist in nature and therefore has not been established as the cause of COVID-19, the disease and pandemic invented by the World Health Organisation (WHO). For the selfsame reason there are no variants of the "virus", which likewise exist only hypothetically in computers, cloud-based gene banks and in the minds of innocent people who have been comprehensively gulled by their governments.

· The COVID-19 fraud, with its numerous preposterous claims, constitutes nothing less than a war on humanity by organisations such as Anser, Fors Marsh, and Palantir that conduct the scam through Big Pharma, with its backers and enablers, including the World Economic Forum, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, the WHO, technology conglomerates, the mainstream media, complicit governments, and COVID "pirates" such as UNC Chapel Hill and Imperial College London, to a one beneficiaries of the fraud.

· COVID-19 is a war on humanity because politicians and their governments continue to use this imaginary disease to terrorise and imprison their citizens, denying them guaranteed human rights and freedoms, and violating their once inviolable bodies with highly experimental and hazardous injections that contain a computer-generated spike protein mRNA sequence that instructs the body to poison itself. These nefarious injections, which also contain undeclared non-biological objects for undeclared purposes, are injuring millions and killing many thousands of people around the world, including up to 218 New Zealanders as at 2 October 2021.

· A virological fraud lies at the heart of these crimes against humanity – that SARS-CoV-2 has never been physically isolated or shown to be the aetiological (causal) agent of COVID-19. In this article, the authors examine the illusory world of virology to explain how a virus that no one has seen or knows where it has come from, that no one knows what it does or where it is going, is, according to the fraudsters, stealing across borders and boundaries and coming to get you no matter where you are. How can it be, the authors ask, that this phantasmagorical madness has morphed into a world redolent with

The author claims that an international committee led by the Bilderberg Group and Western intelligence agencies will steer the world toward a dystopian future in which 4 billion "useless eaters" will be wiped out by 2050 through limited wars, organized epidemics and starvation.*

I. Tues. 20 Aug. 2024: Vaccine Harm in Babies: A critical examination

· Vaccines have been heralded as one of the greatest achievements in modern medicine*, credited with eradicating or controlling numerous infectious diseases. This is FALSE. Let's redo this post since sarcasm is missed by most. The modern vaccine schedule, which includes multiple doses administered in quick succession, has raised concerns about potential adverse effects on infant health. In this text, we will explore how these vaccines might contribute to various health issues, considering the biochemical, photonic, and electronic interactions at play.*

Biochemical and Photonic Interactions:

· Vaccines introduce antigens and adjuvants into the body to stimulate an immune response. These substances can interact with the body's biochemistry in several ways:

1. Trace Metals and nnEMF Absorption: Vaccines often contain trace metals like aluminum and mercury. Research has shown that metals can absorb non-ionizing electromagnetic fields (nnEMF) if their particle size is under 100nm. This absorption can enhance local oxidative stress, leading to cellular damage and inflammation.

2. Oxidative Stress and Inflammation: The introduction of vaccine adjuvants can trigger the production of reactive oxygen species (ROS) and nitrogen species (RNS), leading to oxidative stress. Chronic oxidative stress has been linked to various diseases, including neurodegenerative disorders and immune dysfunction.

Immune System Overload:

· The rapid administration of multiple vaccines can overwhelm an infant's developing immune system. This overload can lead to several issues:

1. Chronic Inflammation: Persistent immune activation can result in chronic inflammation, which has been implicated in conditions such as autism spectrum disorder (ASD), ADHD, and other neurodevelopmental disorders. Chronic inflammation can alter the brain's microglial cells, leading to abnormal neural development and connectivity.

2. Autoimmunity: The overstimulation of the immune system can sometimes result in autoimmune reactions, where the body's immune cells attack its tissues. This has been observed in conditions like Guillain-Barré syndrome and other autoimmune diseases.

Vaccine Ingredients and Neurological Impact:

· Certain ingredients in vaccines can have direct neurological effects:

1. Aluminum: Used as an adjuvant to boost the immune response, aluminum can accumulate in the brain and nervous system, potentially leading to neurotoxicity. Studies have shown that aluminum exposure is linked to conditions like Alzheimer's disease and other neurodegenerative disorders.

2. Thimersol: A mercury-containing compound used as a preservative in some vaccines has been associated with neurodevelopmental delays and disorders. Mercury is a potent neurotoxin that can disrupt neural communication and development.

Endocrine Disruption

Vaccines can also interfere with endocrine function, leading to various health issues:

1. Hypothyroidism: The immune response to vaccines can trigger the production of antibodies that cross-react with thyroid tissue, potentially leading to hypothyroidism. This condition can cause developmental delays, cognitive impairments, and other health issues.

2. Gender Dysphoria: Emerging research suggests that endocrine disruptors in vaccines might contribute to conditions like gender dysphoria by interfering with hormone signaling during critical periods of development.

Respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) infections have surged in recent years, coinciding with increased vaccine schedules. Some researchers suggest that vaccines might weaken the immune system, making infants more susceptible to RSV and other infections:*

1.Immune Suppression: Vaccines can temporarily suppress the immune system, reducing its ability to fight off other infections. This suppression can create a window of vulnerability where infants are more likely to contract diseases like RSV.

2. Microbiome Disruption: Vaccines can alter the gut microbiome, which plays a crucial role in immune function. Disruptions to the microbiome can lead to an increased risk of infections and immune-related disorders.

3. RSV as a Detox Mechanism: It has been suggested that RSV might act as a natural mechanism for infants to clear out the "crap" from vaccines, such as trace metals and other adjuvants. The virus could trigger a detoxification response, aiding in the removal of harmful substances from the body.

Conclusion: Vaccines have undoubtedly NOT saved countless lives, it is therefore essential to consider the potential adverse effects of the current vaccination schedule on infant health. The interaction of vaccine components with the body's biochemical, photonic, and electronic systems can lead to various health* issues, including chronic inflammation, autoimmunity, neuro-developmental disorders, and endocrine disruption. Further research is necessary to fully understand these effects.

0 Aug. 2024: President Trump Warned Us! The WHO's Mpox Declaration Is the Start of a Global Takeover—Forced Compliance Is Next!

· The World Health Organization (WHO) has declared an international emergency for Mpox, but this isn't about public health. This is a calculated move by the global elite to strip away our freedoms and push us into submission under a New World Order. This isn't a virus outbreak; it's an assault on our sovereignty and autonomy.

· President Trump saw this coming*. He warned us about the Left's plans to use another manufactured crisis—a plandemic—to scare us into giving up our rights. And here we are, on the brink of another lockdown, another wave of enforced compliance. Trump didn't mince words, and neither should we: WE WILL NOT COMPLY. This is war, and the battleground is our own homes.*

· Twenty-four Republican governors have already taken a stand, rejecting the WHO's power grab. They know the truth: the WHO isn't just a health organization; it's a front for a globalist coup. A coup designed to strip us of our national sovereignty and replace it with a tyrannical global government. The stakes are sky-high, and the enemy is already inside the gates.

· The WHO's so-called "pandemic plans" are nothing more than blueprints for global domination. Their proposed modifications would give the WHO the ultimate authority to declare any situation a public health emergency. Imagine that power in the hands of unelected bureaucrats—anything from bird flu to climate change could be used to justify draconian measures, all without a single vote from the people.

· This isn't about protecting us. It's about total control. The WHO's Director-General, a puppet of the global elite, will have the power to dictate the fate of entire nations. We're witnessing a globalist takeover disguised as health policy, unfolding right before our eyes.

· What measures are they pushing? Brace yourself: mandatory vaccines, experimental gene therapy, and even forced relocation under the guise of climate change. Yes, forced relocation. They plan to move populations like cattle, controlling not just our health but our very existence.

· These aren't traditional vaccines*—they're experimental gene therapies that could rewrite your DNA, with unpredictable effects. They're pushing these on us, fully aware of the risks, but they don't care. To them, we're lab rats in a grand experiment to see how far they can push humanity before we break.*

· They claim these vaccines are safe, that they're for our own good, but let's be real: this is about creating a subservient population, easier to control and manipulate. They're not vaccinating us; they're programming us. And anyone who dares speak out is silenced. They've banned effective treatments like Ivermectin and hydroxychloroquine not because they don't work, but because they do. They don't want you to have options—they want you to obey.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

· The WHO's modified agreement would extend beyond our bodies. It would control what we can say and think, silencing dissent on a global scale. Podcasters, conservative media, social media influencers—anyone with the courage to speak the truth—would be shut down, erased from the digital world. This is censorship like we've never seen, enforced by an unholy alliance of tech giants and globalists.

· The COVID plandemic was just the test run. They used it to condition us to accept the unacceptable. But the real show is starting now, with the WHO at the center, wielding Orwellian powers.

· The WHO's Mpox emergency is the spark that could ignite a firestorm of global authoritarianism. If we don't stand up now, if we don't reject this outright, we will be the last generation to know what true freedom feels like.

· We must fight. Refuse to comply, speak out, resist, and unite with those who see the truth. The battle for our freedom has begun, and we must fight as if our lives depend on it—because they do.

Tucker Carlson: Autism Rates in America "What the Hell is that?" Nationally, 1 in 36 Children today, have autism. In California, 1 in 22 children have autism. In 1970, autism diagnosis rates were approximately 1-2 out of 10,000 Children. In the 90s, that number jumped to one in 2,500. By the year 2030, if this trend continues, we might see a dramatic increase, potentially reaching 1 in 2 for boys by 2030. The Autism medical industry generates close to $1 Trillion Dollars Annually, today. One single autism child is estimated to have a lifetime social cost approximately $3.6 million. How many children do you know that suffer from autism?

https://t.me/JFK_Q17/1027 How the PCR test kills you. Former FEMA Whistleblower Celeste Solum explains that the Corona PCR "test" is implanting a microchip.

So the Nasopharyngeal Covid19 PCR "tests" were never tests at all. They are implanting chips, inserting Nanobots called Nanites with a bioweapons payload for the brain, while at the same time harvesting DNA.

The PCR swab is inserted straight to the Nasopharynx behind the nose and forehead where your eyes are. It's at the blood brain barrier and next to your pineal gland. I believe they are knocking out people's senses with these Bioweapons and killing human intuition and your ability to cognitively see what they are doing to us. They're knocking out our senses and targeting the brain with Nanites that carry a payload as Celeste spoke about in previous videos. This is war. Serious warfare.

Do you want to see the interoffice vaccine mandate orders the DOJ is has sent out to all of its Federal employees?

To the DOJ Federal Workforce:

As we move towards the President's November 22 deadline for all federal employees to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19, I want to update you on some important and immediately looming interim deadlines. I also want to provide you with an update on the Department's COVID-19 vaccination attestation plan and related information.

Vaccination Requirement. If you are not yet fully vaccinated, please remember that in order to meet the November 22 deadline for full vaccination, you must hit these target dates for your vaccine doses (based on the different recommended periods between two-dose vaccines):

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

• By October 11: first dose if you are getting the Moderna COVID-19 vaccine.

• By October 18: first dose if you are getting the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine.

• By November 8: second dose of the Moderna or Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccines.

• By November 8: first and only dose if you are getting the Johnson & Johnson COVID-19 vaccine.

These dates are fast approaching, please do not let them pass.

Attestation and Proof of Vaccination. As I noted in my September 17, 2021 workforce email, you are required to attest to your vaccination status and upload proof of your vaccination. The Department has an online app known as COVID Check for this purpose, and FBI and BOP have similar apps for their respective employees. Your component has either already begun, or will begin shortly, inviting you to log on and upload your vaccination proof. Easy to follow instructions will come with your invitation. You will have seven calendar days to complete your attestation and upload it. If you are on leave for the duration of the seven days, work with your supervisor regarding a limited extension. The process is fast and easy, and over 48,000 DOJ employees have already submitted their documentation. Thank you!

Testing Protocol for Unvaccinated Employees Entering the Workplace. The Department has determined as a matter of policy that employees who attest to not yet being fully vaccinated, prior to entering a Department workplace other than their telework location, will have to provide to their supervisor (or component designee) a negative COVID-19 test result from within the previous three days. This requirement also applies to employees who are under a pending reasonable accommodation exception, as well as approved exceptions that include testing. Testing is also necessary for unvaccinated individuals who travel or participate in an official meeting or function at any location other than a telework location. The testing requirement takes effect upon the employee's submission of the attestation that they are not fully vaccinated. To monitor and enforce this requirement, supervisors will be following up with employees who attest to not being fully vaccinated. The Department will not prohibit an unvaccinated employee from entering the workplace if they follow the testing protocol.

The testing requirement can be satisfied with any COVID-19 test approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Employees are strongly encouraged to obtain a test that produces a dated report, such as those performed at a pharmacy or doctor's office. If employees use a home test that does not produce such a report, their supervisor must be able to ascertain the date of the test, and components will establish a process for ensuring this. For example, if permitted by your component, the home test could be performed at the building entrance in the presence of a supervisor or other employee designated by the component. Your management may provide additional guidance on the process for confirming that you have had a recent negative test if you are not fully vaccinated and need to enter the workplace.

At the present time, employees tested under this policy are responsible for arranging their own testing unless their component offers COVID-19 testing to employees.

I said I would not post but this is too important. Doctors are not prescribing certain drugs that work for Covid 19 because it is off label. This is just plain EVIL! I have to send everyone this protocol from Front Line Covid-19 Critical Care Alliance for Covid 19 that includes Ivermectin. Please pass this one far and wide.

https://twitter.com/i/status/1422323709902303238 The vaccine logic circle of stupidity.

Pharmacology, Medicine, Pandemics, Vaccines, and Bioweapons: When the pandemic began there was 1 person worth $100 billion Now there are 9 When the pandemic began the 10 richest people had $695 billion Now they have $1.36 trillion While people struggle to put food on the table amid the pandemic, billionaires are getting richer. The day when people realize this is a business, it'll be too late. AMABLACKPATRIOT@DrShayPhD So the Associated Press wrote an article saying that Cape Canaveral, FL hospital is bursting at the seams with Covid patients. I had to go see for myself, so I drove there. The first set of pictures are of the hospital's parking. More to follow. Huh, imagine that. So what then is the benefit or intent of the Vaccine?: With around 33,000 residents, Gibraltar is the most vaccinated country on earth. By June 1st, over 99% of Gibraltar's population was fully vaccinated. Since that time, new COVID cases per day have increased from 1 to 25 and the country is now going back into lockdowns. Similar stories are occurring in other countries with the highest percentages vaccinated; Israel, UK, Malta and Iceland. Clearly, the vaccine does not stop infections. Why is the goal to vaccinate everyone if the most vaccinated countries on earth are going back into lockdowns ? 12 out of 13 countries on Johns Hopkins list of the most vaccinated are currently listed by the CDC as 'high' or 'very high' COVID-19 travel risk. Very High: Malta, United Arab Emirates, Seychelles, Chile, Uruguay, Bahrain, Mongolia High: Iceland, Qatar, Belgium, Canada, Israel Low: Singapore Unavailable: Bahrain, Bhutan Why does the CDC's data show that the greatest risk of catching COVID-19 is in the most vaccinated countries in the world ? CDC Travel Risk: https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/travelers/map-and-travel-notices.html Johns Hopkins Vaccinations: https://coronavirus.jhu.edu/vaccines/international *The data also shows that the 'delta variant' is much less deadly for a virus that the CDC says you have a 99.5% chance of surviving if you are below the age of 70. This is the first time in human history that we have mass tested the healthy and many countries are setting their PCR cycle thresholds between 35-45 which are producing 90% or more false positives. Really, you can’t see the nonsense in this yet? A vaccine so effective you have to keep getting boosters. Really, not yet?: The Pfizer CEO had to cancel a planned trip to Israel because he wasn't fully vaccinated. Despite claiming he was vaccinated and felt 'liberated,' he then never went for an Independence Day celebration. This raises questions. https://twitter.com/i/status/1423132757354553348 What’s coming next from the vaccination of the children. If I get vaccinated.... - Can I stop wearing the mask? - Government: No - Can the restaurants, pubs, bars, etc. reopen and everyone work normally? - Government: No - Am I resistant to covid? - Government: Maybe, but we don't know for sure..... - At least I am no longer contagious to others? - Government: No, you can still pass it on, possibly no one knows. - If we vaccinate all children, will school go on as normal? - Government: No - If I am vaccinated, can I stop social dissociation? - Government: No - If I am vaccinated, can I stop disinfecting my hands? - Government - No - If I vaccinate myself and my grandpa, can we hug? - Government: No - Will movie theaters, theaters and stadiums reopen thanks to vaccines? - Government: No - May the vaccinated be able to gather [events; parties]. - Government: No - What is the real benefit of vaccination? - Government: The virus will not kill you. - Are you sure it won't kill me? - Government: No - If statistically the virus won't kill me anyway.... Why should I get vaccinated?" - Government: To protect others. - So if I get vaccinated, others are 100% sure I won't infect them? - Government: No, we are not sure. So, to summarize: The Covid 9 vaccine.... - Does not give immunity. - Does not eliminate the virus. - Does not prevent death. - Doesn't guarantee you won't get it. - Doesn't stop you from getting it. - Does not stop you from passing it on. - Doesn't preclude the need for travel bans. - Doesn't preclude the need for business closures. - Doesn't preclude the need for closures. - doesn't preclude the need for concealment. So the Nasopharyngeal Covid19 PCR "tests" were never tests at all. They are implanting chips, inserting Nanobots called Nanites with a bioweapons payload for the brain, while at the same time harvesting DNA. The PCR swab is inserted straight to the Nasopharynx behind the nose and forehead where your eyes are. It's at the blood brain barrier and next to your pineal gland. health or a cure...its about big pharma and hospitals scheming for profit. This doctor calls it "politics." If a hospital admits a COVID-19 patient, they get paid $13k. If that COVID-19 patient goes on a ventilator, the hospital gets paid $39k---three times as much. While HCQ is better known, has fewer side-effects, and costs about $20 a dose for out-patients, Remdesivir is a therapeutic course that costs $2,340/patient that has been proven to cause liver damage. Being intravenous, remdesivir requires expensive hospital care (hospital receives an addl $13k from Medicare.) There have been many accounts of hospitals placing non covid patients on covid floors...increasing exposure and the hospital's chance of cashing in more. Wed. 14 Aug. 2024 Tedros from the World Health Organization declared Monkeypox “a public health emergency of international concern.” Of course it is. They had already put Monkey Pox in the Astra Zeneca Jab and infected The People. Now the WHO, supported by the Deep State Cabal, was ready to control the World through another Plan-demic.

A complete PDF of The COVID-19 Fraud & War on Humanity with full references can be downloaded here. The videos can be found here: Part One, Part Two, Part Three.

Abstract

· COVID-19 is a fraud because its alleged causal agent, a purported novel coronavirus called SARS-CoV-2, has not been proven to exist in nature and therefore has not been established as the cause of COVID-19, the disease and pandemic invented by the World Health Organisation (WHO). For the selfsame reason there are no variants of the “virus”, which likewise exist only hypothetically in computers, cloud-based gene banks and in the minds of innocent people who have been comprehensively gulled by their governments.

· The COVID-19 fraud, with its numerous preposterous claims, constitutes nothing less than a war on humanity by organisations such as Anser, Fors Marsh, and Palantir that conduct the scam through Big Pharma, with its backers and enablers, including the World Economic Forum, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, the WHO, technology conglomerates, the mainstream media, complicit governments, and COVID “pirates” such as UNC Chapel Hill and Imperial College London, to a one beneficiaries of the fraud.

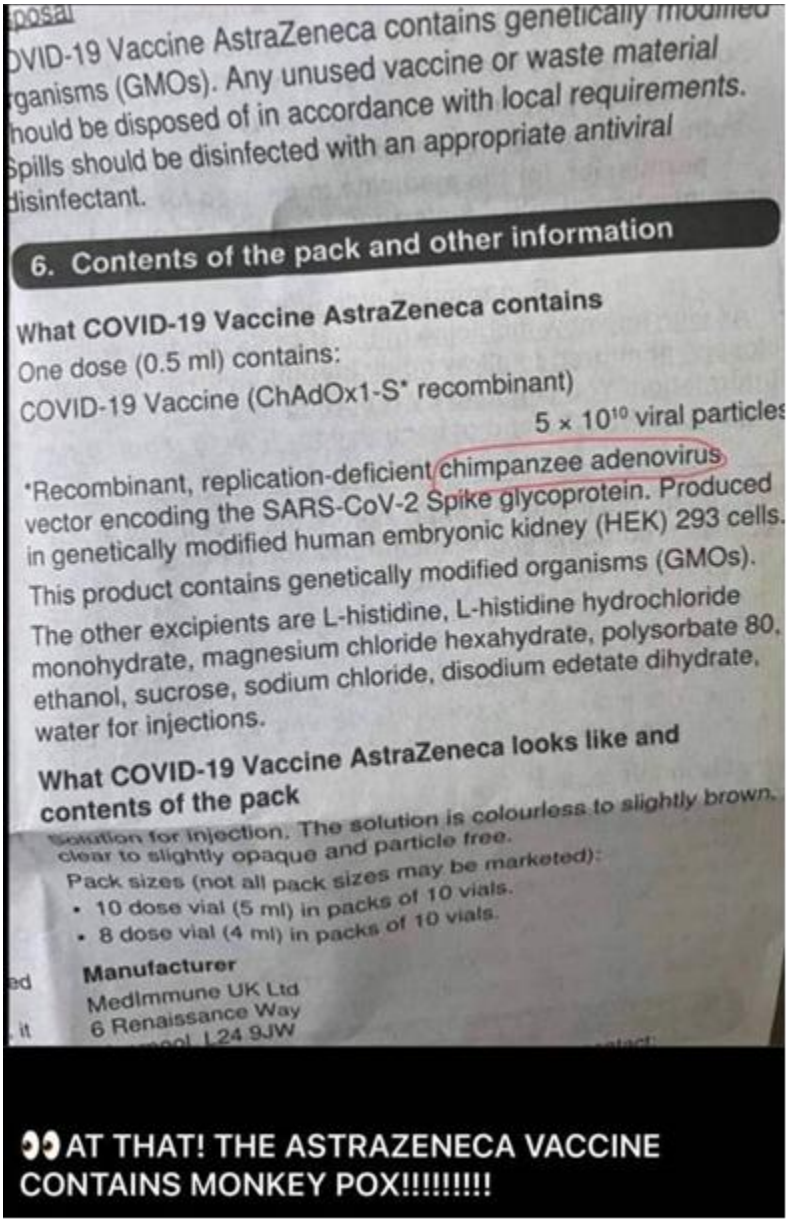

· COVID-19 is a war on humanity because politicians and their governments continue to use this imaginary disease to terrorise and imprison their citizens, denying them guaranteed human rights and freedoms, and violating their once inviolable bodies with highly experimental and hazardous injections that contain a computer-generated spike protein mRNA sequence that instructs the body to poison itself. These nefarious injections, which also contain undeclared non-biological objects for undeclared purposes, are injuring millions and killing many thousands of people around the world, including up to 218 New Zealanders as at 2 October 2021.

· A virological fraud lies at the heart of these crimes against humanity – that SARS-CoV-2 has never been physically isolated or shown to be the aetiological (causal) agent of COVID-19. In this article, the authors examine the illusory world of virology to explain how a virus that no one has seen or knows where it has come from, that no one knows what it does or where it is going, is, according to the fraudsters, stealing across borders and boundaries and coming to get you no matter where you are. How can it be, the authors ask, that this phantasmagorical madness has morphed into a world redolent with fear in which democratic governments have abandoned democratic principles to engage in the control and “deletion of human beings” that may be just a “variant” away from turning into World War III?

I. Tues. 20 Aug. 2024: Vaccine Harm in Babies: A critical examination

· Vaccines have been heralded as one of the greatest achievements in modern medicine, credited with eradicating or controlling numerous infectious diseases. This is FALSE. Let's redo this post since sarcasm is missed by most. The modern vaccine schedule, which includes multiple doses administered in quick succession, has raised concerns about potential adverse effects on infant health. In this text, we will explore how these vaccines might contribute to various health issues, considering the biochemical, photonic, and electronic interactions at play.

Biochemical and Photonic Interactions:

· Vaccines introduce antigens and adjuvants into the body to stimulate an immune response. These substances can interact with the body's biochemistry in several ways:

1. Trace Metals and nnEMF Absorption: Vaccines often contain trace metals like aluminum and mercury. Research has shown that metals can absorb non-ionizing electromagnetic fields (nnEMF) if their particle size is under 100nm. This absorption can enhance local oxidative stress, leading to cellular damage and inflammation.

2. Oxidative Stress and Inflammation: The introduction of vaccine adjuvants can trigger the production of reactive oxygen species (ROS) and nitrogen species (RNS), leading to oxidative stress. Chronic oxidative stress has been linked to various diseases, including neurodegenerative disorders and immune dysfunction.

Immune System Overload:

· The rapid administration of multiple vaccines can overwhelm an infant's developing immune system. This overload can lead to several issues:

1. Chronic Inflammation: Persistent immune activation can result in chronic inflammation, which has been implicated in conditions such as autism spectrum disorder (ASD), ADHD, and other neurodevelopmental disorders. Chronic inflammation can alter the brain's microglial cells, leading to abnormal neural development and connectivity.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

2. Autoimmunity: The overstimulation of the immune system can sometimes result in autoimmune reactions, where the body's immune cells attack its tissues. This has been observed in conditions like Guillain-Barré syndrome and other autoimmune diseases.

Vaccine Ingredients and Neurological Impact:

· Certain ingredients in vaccines can have direct neurological effects:

1. Aluminum: Used as an adjuvant to boost the immune response, aluminum can accumulate in the brain and nervous system, potentially leading to neurotoxicity. Studies have shown that aluminum exposure is linked to conditions like Alzheimer's disease and other neurodegenerative disorders.

2. Thimersol: A mercury-containing compound used as a preservative in some vaccines has been associated with neurodevelopmental delays and disorders. Mercury is a potent neurotoxin that can disrupt neural communication and development.

Endocrine Disruption

Vaccines can also interfere with endocrine function, leading to various health issues:

1. Hypothyroidism: The immune response to vaccines can trigger the production of antibodies that cross-react with thyroid tissue, potentially leading to hypothyroidism. This condition can cause developmental delays, cognitive impairments, and other health issues.

2. Gender Dysphoria: Emerging research suggests that endocrine disruptors in vaccines might contribute to conditions like gender dysphoria by interfering with hormone signaling during critical periods of development.

Respiratory syncytial virus (RSV) infections have surged in recent years, coinciding with increased vaccine schedules. Some researchers suggest that vaccines might weaken the immune system, making infants more susceptible to RSV and other infections:

1.Immune Suppression: Vaccines can temporarily suppress the immune system, reducing its ability to fight off other infections. This suppression can create a window of vulnerability where infants are more likely to contract diseases like RSV.

2. Microbiome Disruption: Vaccines can alter the gut microbiome, which plays a crucial role in immune function. Disruptions to the microbiome can lead to an increased risk of infections and immune-related disorders.

3. RSV as a Detox Mechanism: It has been suggested that RSV might act as a natural mechanism for infants to clear out the "crap" from vaccines, such as trace metals and other adjuvants. The virus could trigger a detoxification response, aiding in the removal of harmful substances from the body.

Conclusion: Vaccines have undoubtedly NOT saved countless lives, it is therefore essential to consider the potential adverse effects of the current vaccination schedule on infant health. The interaction of vaccine components with the body’s biochemical, photonic, and electronic systems can lead to various health issues, including chronic inflammation, autoimmunity, neuro-developmental disorders, and endocrine disruption. Further research is necessary to fully understand these effects.

Aug. 2024: President Trump Warned Us! The WHO's Mpox Declaration Is the Start of a Global Takeover—Forced Compliance Is Next!

· The World Health Organization (WHO) has declared an international emergency for Mpox, but this isn't about public health. This is a calculated move by the global elite to strip away our freedoms and push us into submission under a New World Order. This isn't a virus outbreak; it's an assault on our sovereignty and autonomy.

· President Trump saw this coming. He warned us about the Left's plans to use another manufactured crisis—a plandemic—to scare us into giving up our rights. And here we are, on the brink of another lockdown, another wave of enforced compliance. Trump didn't mince words, and neither should we: WE WILL NOT COMPLY. This is war, and the battleground is our own homes.

· Twenty-four Republican governors have already taken a stand, rejecting the WHO's power grab. They know the truth: the WHO isn't just a health organization; it's a front for a globalist coup. A coup designed to strip us of our national sovereignty and replace it with a tyrannical global government. The stakes are sky-high, and the enemy is already inside the gates.

· The WHO's so-called "pandemic plans" are nothing more than blueprints for global domination. Their proposed modifications would give the WHO the ultimate authority to declare any situation a public health emergency. Imagine that power in the hands of unelected bureaucrats—anything from bird flu to climate change could be used to justify draconian measures, all without a single vote from the people.

· This isn't about protecting us. It's about total control. The WHO's Director-General, a puppet of the global elite, will have the power to dictate the fate of entire nations. We're witnessing a globalist takeover disguised as health policy, unfolding right before our eyes.

· What measures are they pushing? Brace yourself: mandatory vaccines, experimental gene therapy, and even forced relocation under the guise of climate change. Yes, forced relocation. They plan to move populations like cattle, controlling not just our health but our very existence.

· These aren't traditional vaccines—they're experimental gene therapies that could rewrite your DNA, with unpredictable effects. They're pushing these on us, fully aware of the risks, but they don't care. To them, we're lab rats in a grand experiment to see how far they can push humanity before we break.

· They claim these vaccines are safe, that they're for our own good, but let's be real: this is about creating a subservient population, easier to control and manipulate. They're not vaccinating us; they're programming us. And anyone who dares speak out is silenced. They've banned effective treatments like Ivermectin and hydroxychloroquine not because they don't work, but because they do. They don't want you to have options—they want you to obey.

· The WHO's modified agreement would extend beyond our bodies. It would control what we can say and think, silencing dissent on a global scale. Podcasters, conservative media, social media influencers—anyone with the courage to speak the truth—would be shut down, erased from the digital world. This is censorship like we've never seen, enforced by an unholy alliance of tech giants and globalists.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

· The COVID plandemic was just the test run. They used it to condition us to accept the unacceptable. But the real show is starting now, with the WHO at the center, wielding Orwellian powers.

· The WHO's Mpox emergency is the spark that could ignite a firestorm of global authoritarianism. If we don't stand up now, if we don't reject this outright, we will be the last generation to know what true freedom feels like.

· We must fight. Refuse to comply, speak out, resist, and unite with those who see the truth. The battle for our freedom has begun, and we must fight as if our lives depend on it—because they do.

Tucker Carlson: Autism Rates in America "What the Hell is that?" Nationally, 1 in 36 Children today, have autism. In California, 1 in 22 children have autism. In 1970, autism diagnosis rates were approximately 1-2 out of 10,000 Children. In the 90s, that number jumped to one in 2,500. By the year 2030, if this trend continues, we might see a dramatic increase, potentially reaching 1 in 2 for boys by 2030. The Autism medical industry generates close to $1 Trillion Dollars Annually, today. One single autism child is estimated to have a lifetime social cost approximately $3.6 million. How many children do you know that suffer from autism?

Do you see the pattern?

The error of Germ Theory and 'viruses' Part 1

· In the history of virology there's never been a truly isolated virus. This is important because Germ Theory of viral transmission only benefits Big Pharma and demonstrates many logical flaws when held up to true scientific principles.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

· What is generally meant by isolation - which has never been done - is to take a sample from an 'infected' patient and directly view and isolate the so-called 'virus' under such technology as an electron microscope. Bacteria are scientifically provable, and this can be done. This cannot be done with so-called 'viruses'. All known 'viruses' are computer-simulated gibberish.

· If you read page 43 of their own document (FDA website) you will see that they openly admit to having taken a simulation out of stock and there was no Covid samples available for comparison. Page 43 (page 43 in most browsers - found under 'Performance Characteristics')

· “Since no quantified virus isolates of the 2019-nCoV were available for CDC use at the time the test was developed and this study conducted, assays designed for detection of the 2019-nCoV RNA were tested with characterized stocks of in vitro transcribed full length RNA...” That is merely fancy language for multiplication of computer-simulated strands that prove no existence of anything.

· We then use inappropriate ‘testing’ methods such as PCR and claim it demonstrates the ‘virus’, conveniently ignoring that a PCR test set on a high cycle could show everyone has Ebola and many other so-called ‘viruses’ too.

· Pellagra was labeled a contagious disease until they found out it was a nutritional deficiency. Typhoid, cholera, yellow fever, and other ‘infectious diseases’ disappeared when people were provided clean water and sanitation. Polio was/is associated with DDT/other toxins. Toxins and poisons and deficiencies are more frequently the cause of what people call viruses...which aligns more scientifically with Terrain Model.

· Most people’s ‘opinion’ is that viruses are identifiable vectors for us to potentially catch a contagious illness. But that is simply not true. The reality is - in any true measurable data performed under actual scientific principles of Koch’s postulates – no one has never successfully isolated a ‘virus’. So-called ‘viruses’ are merely computer simulated mental constructs.

· Please watch this video “Viruses are Mental Constructs” from Dr. Stefan Lanka

· They take a sample, and they spin it and then they add certain culture mediums and grow something, then they amplify it, filling in the gaps and creating the sequences with computer technology. Then they call it a 'virus'.

· ‘Viruses’ as we know them are able to be patented. However, no ‘product of nature’ patents are allowed. You cannot patent a naturally occurring bacteria as they are a ‘product of nature’. So why can you patent a ‘virus’? The answer is they are man-made and not ‘naturally occurring’ e.g. computer simulations.

· And again (same as posted above) this video from Dr. Lanka explains this process: “Viruses are Mental Constructs”

· Many medical people have a difficult time even considering the error of Germ Theory because they think they have seen these phenomena for their own eyes...but in most cases they should just look a little closer. For example: Urinary Tract Infections have run rampant through facilities in what seems like 'outbreaks' but we would not consider UTIs an 'infectious' disease. So why do even non-'viral' symptoms often appear in clusters? We must be willing to consider that everything we think to be true might not be true at all if we want to create a truly healthy and educated society.

Wed. 28 Aug. 2024 Med Beds, NESARA/GESARA on Telegram

· EXCLUSIVE! Top Secret Military Program and 50,000 Med Bed Centers in Closed Walmarts—The Selected Few Leading a Global Health Revolution!

· Med Beds are not just the future of medicine; they represent a new era in human history. This groundbreaking technology, long suppressed, is now quietly transforming lives behind closed doors. While the world remains unaware, a select few are already experiencing the incredible healing powers of Med Beds, curing diseases once thought incurable and reversing the effects of aging.

· These Med Beds are more than advanced medical devices; they are the key to unlocking the full potential of the human body. Cancer, degenerative diseases, and other severe conditions are being eradicated in secret locations, far from the public eye. But why the secrecy? The answer lies in who controls this revolutionary technology.

· The first wave of Med Bed treatments is being administered to carefully chosen individuals—those from hospitals, hospices, and even the streets. These people, seemingly selected at random, are actually part of a larger experiment, designed to refine the technology and prepare for its broader release.

· Reports from insiders reveal miraculous recoveries: terminal cancer cured overnight, the elderly rejuvenated to their younger selves, and severe genetic disorders healed in hours. These stories, though not officially acknowledged, are beginning to emerge, hinting at the true capabilities of Med Beds.

· So, where are these Med Beds, and who controls them? Over 5 million centers have been established worldwide, with 50,000 in the United States alone, often hidden in plain sight within military bases, hospitals, and repurposed Walmarts. These Walmarts were not closed due to poor sales but were transformed into Med Bed centers, equipped with state-of-the-art technology.

· Currently, the Military, particularly those involved in the Secret Space Force Program, controls the Med Beds. They decide who gets treated and when. There is a plan to eventually hand over control to Med Bed Humanitarians, a group of carefully selected individuals who will lead the global healing initiative. These Humanitarians will be the first non-military individuals to access Med Beds, ensuring they are in peak condition to guide humanity into a new era.

· Children rescued from trafficking, healed by Med Beds, are proof of this technology's immense power. These devices not only heal physical wounds but also restore mental and emotional well-being, erasing the trauma endured by these vulnerable children.

· We stand on the brink of a global health revolution. The Med Beds are already here, changing lives, but their full potential is being carefully controlled. When the time comes for their public unveiling, the world will change forever. Until then, those in power will continue to use this technology as they see fit, keeping the rest of us in the dark.

Age Regression (up to 30 years) No more cancer, autism, Fibromyalgia, Alzheimer's, Joint Pain, deficiencies, nor need for vaccines.

· Med Beds have the ability to re-grow organs that are missing, such as a Gall Bladder, Kidney or Lymph Nodes through the use of light spectrums and frequencies.

Biden and NATO don't want peace in Ukraine. They need a world war in order to pick up their depopulation agenda that didn't achieve the extermination milestones they had hoped to achieve with covid vaccines.

The covid plandemic was launched in order to achieve two key things: 1) Rapid expansion of authoritarianism by terrorizing the population with covid fear, and 2) Global depopulation / extermination through covid vaccines which are actually gene-altering infertility jabs and “clot shots.” These jabs also alter human DNA and result in gradual cancer deaths over a decade. (You will see huge spikes in cancer deaths for 2021 and 2022 once the numbers are officially reported.)

Financial analyst Edward Dowd, who works with statisticians that are analyzing CDC data, has concluded there are so far 1.1 million excess deaths in the United States since the vaccine push began.

Even 1-2 billion deaths from the vaccine isn’t enough for the satanic globalists

Unfortunately for the globalists, the vaccine extermination agenda failed to achieve their depopulation milestones. Although 1-2 billion people will likely die from mRNA vaccines over the next decade (from heart attacks, strokes, blood clots, etc.), this is nowhere near the 7+ billion deaths that the depopulation globalists are trying to achieve.

In order to achieve the much larger die-off they desire, globalists need to decimate the global supply chain that provides food and energy to the world. These are also interrelated since energy (in the form of natural gas) creates nitrogen-based fertilizer that’s used to produce food. In addition, energy is a critical farm input in the form of diesel fuel that powers tractors and transportation trucks.

6 Sept. 2024 BREAKING: FOUR DEADLY PARASITES FOUND IN THE VACCINES — IT'S THE CRIME OF THE CENTURY! …Julian Assange on Telegram

· In what might be the biggest public health scandal ever, four deadly parasites have been found inside vaccines. And it's not just speculation—it's a fact. Big Pharma has done everything possible to hide it. But ask yourself: if vaccines are meant to save lives, why are deadly organisms being injected into us. This is real, and you can't afford to look away.

· A Nightmare Unfolding. We've been told for years that vaccines are 'safe and effective.' But that's not the full story. What if I told you these vials contain living parasites that can harm or even kill you. Yes, these organisms are inside, and once injected, who knows what damage they'll cause. This is not some far-off danger; it's happening right now.

· Dr. Carrie Madej ran independent tests on vaccine vials and uncovered something terrifying—a living Hydra vulgaris parasite trying to escape from the vial. That's right, living organisms, not just chemicals, are being injected under the guise of 'protection.' And Hydra is just one of the four parasites found.

· Big Pharma's Role in This Scandal. Don't think for a second this is a mistake. Big Pharma is known for putting profits before people. Backed by governments, shielded from lawsuits, and rolling in billions, they have no reason to care about the dangers they're spreading. The question isn't if they'd do this, it's when they already have.

· Cold Storage—The Real Reason. Why were these vials stored at freezing temperatures. It wasn't just about preserving the vaccine. It was to keep these parasites alive. Once injected and they warm up, they start moving inside your body, ready to wreak havoc.

· Hydra Vulgaris—the Immortal Parasite. This parasite is nearly immortal, with the ability to regenerate itself endlessly. Imagine that—an organism inside your body that can live forever, multiplying inside your bloodstream. This isn't just scary—it's a nightmare.

· Trypanosoma Cruzi—the Killer Parasite. Another parasite found in vaccines is Trypanosoma cruzi, which causes Chagas disease. It's a silent killer, slowly damaging the heart and digestive system over years. How many people have this ticking time bomb in their veins right now.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

· Toxoplasma Gondii—Mind Control Parasite. This parasite can manipulate behavior. Scientists have shown it can alter brain chemistry in animals, making them act irrationally. Now imagine this mind-control being injected into humans—millions could already be under its influence.

· The Cover-Up. The media has stayed silent. Why. Because Big Pharma and governments are in on this. They need us to trust vaccines. They've silenced whistleblowers, buried the truth, and labeled anyone exposing this as spreading 'misinformation.'

· Conclusion: This is the crime of the century, and it's happening right now. We're being injected with deadly organisms, all for profit. It's time to wake up. Don't let these parasites take over your body or your mind. Fight back—before it's too late.

GRAPHENE OXIDE/ CHEMTRAIL/ FLUORIDE/ PROCESSED FOODS/ HUMAN CLONES HOAXES:

· Mon. 9 Sept. 2024 Big Pharma is secretly "ghostwriting" articles in top medical and oncology journals to trick doctors into buying their drugs. Here's how the scam works: First, pharma pays companies big money to ghostwrite studies that look legit. During Covid hospitals nationwide murdered people simply to collect Covid subsidies at $48,000 per death.

· On September 18, 2024, Children's Health Defense will be releasing "Vaxxed 3: Authorized to Kill." This jarring documentary exposes widespread injuries and deaths caused by vaccines and hospital protocols that were mandated during the covid-19 scandal. The documentary includes serious testimony from over a thousand interviews with everyday people, including medical professionals, whistleblowers and family members whose lives were shattered by the hospital protocols and mandatory vaccines.

Chemtrails were being sprayed from the skies to kill plants, earth and the general population, while the "hated" lawn weed Dandelion Root came naturally from the earth for those who ingested it to kill 98% Of Cancer Cells in their body within 48 hours.

The Truth about 'Diseases' and 'Viruses' 'Diseases' and 'Viruses' do not exist. They were both created by the Pharmaceutical Industry who uses the flawed 'germ theory' to sell medicines and vaccines to the populous for monetary gain and population control. If the 'germ theory' was correct there wouldn't be a human alive today to tell the story. Germs, bacteria, fungus, pathogens and even 'viruses' (which are not viruses but protein based exosomes within our RNA) are everywhere. Life is made up of the things! Our bodies are made up of these things! So called 'diseases' are purely symptoms of an underlying toxicity within the cells. So called 'viruses' are manufactured within our own bodies as a protection mechanism against over toxicity. When we are overly toxic our body creates a natural detoxification process called a

'Flu', a 'Cold' or a 'Pneumonia' to rid the body of these deadly toxins. 'Viruses' are not contagious in any way or form. The only way you can catch a 'virus' is to be injected with one via a 'vaccine'. Think about it!

The error of Germ Theory and 'viruses' Part 1

· In the history of virology there's never been a truly isolated virus. This is important because Germ Theory of viral transmission only benefits Big Pharma and demonstrates many logical flaws when held up to true scientific principles.

· What is generally meant by isolation - which has never been done - is to take a sample from an 'infected' patient and directly view and isolate the so-called 'virus' under such technology as an electron microscope. Bacteria are scientifically provable, and this can be done. This cannot be done with so-called 'viruses'. All known 'viruses' are computer-simulated gibberish.

· If you read page 43 *of their own document (FDA website) you will see that they openly admit to having taken a simulation out of stock and there was no Covid samples available for comparison.* Page 43 (page 43 in most browsers - found under 'Performance Characteristics')

· "Since no quantified virus isolates of the 2019-nCoV were available for CDC use at the time the test was developed and this study conducted, assays designed for detection of the 2019-nCoV RNA were tested with characterized stocks of in vitro transcribed full length RNA..." That is merely fancy language for multiplication of computer-simulated strands that prove no existence of anything.

· We then use inappropriate 'testing' methods such as PCR and claim it demonstrates the 'virus', conveniently ignoring that a PCR test set on a high cycle could show everyone has Ebola and many other so-called 'viruses' too.

· Pellagra was labeled a contagious disease until they found out it was a nutritional deficiency. Typhoid, cholera, yellow fever, and other 'infectious diseases' disappeared when people were provided clean water and sanitation. Polio was/is associated with DDT/other toxins. Toxins and poisons and deficiencies are more frequently the cause of what people call viruses...which aligns more scientifically with Terrain Model.

· Most people's 'opinion' is that viruses are identifiable vectors for us to potentially catch a contagious illness. But that is simply not true. The reality is - in any true measurable data performed under actual scientific principles of Koch's postulates – no one has never successfully isolated a 'virus'. So-called 'viruses' are merely computer simulated mental constructs.

· Please watch this video "Viruses are Mental Constructs" from Dr. Stefan Lanka

· They take a sample, and they spin it and then they add certain culture mediums and grow something, then they amplify it, filling in the gaps and creating the sequences with computer technology. Then they call it a 'virus'.

· 'Viruses' as we know them are able to be patented. However, no 'product of nature' patents are allowed. You cannot patent a naturally occurring bacteria as they are a 'product of nature'. So why can you patent a 'virus'? The answer is they are man-made and not 'naturally occurring' e.g. computer simulations.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

· And again (same as posted above) this video from Dr. Lanka explains this process: "Viruses are Mental Constructs"

· Many medical people have a difficult time even considering the error of Germ Theory because they think they have seen these phenomena for their own eyes...but in most cases they should just look a little closer. For example: Urinary Tract Infections have run rampant through facilities in what seems like 'outbreaks' but we would not consider UTIs an 'infectious' disease. So why do even non-'viral' symptoms often appear in clusters? We must be willing to consider that everything we think to be true might not be true at all if we want to create a truly healthy and educated society.

6 Sept. 2024 BREAKING: FOUR DEADLY PARASITES FOUND IN THE VACCINES — IT'S THE CRIME OF THE CENTURY! …Julian Assange on Telegram

· In what might be the biggest public health scandal ever, four deadly parasites have been found inside vaccines. And it's not just speculation—it's a fact. Big Pharma has done everything possible to hide it. But ask yourself: if vaccines are meant to save lives, why are deadly organisms being injected into us. This is real, and you can't afford to look away.

· A Nightmare Unfolding*. We've been told for years that vaccines are 'safe and effective.' But that's not the full story. What if I told you these vials contain living parasites that can harm or even kill you. Yes, these organisms are inside, and once injected, who knows what damage they'll cause. This is not some far-off danger; it's happening right now.*

· Dr. Carrie Madej ran independent tests on vaccine vials and uncovered something terrifying—a living Hydra vulgaris parasite trying to escape from the vial. That's right, living organisms, not just chemicals, are being injected under the guise of 'protection.' And Hydra is just one of the four parasites found.

· Big Pharma's Role in This Scandal*. Don't think for a second this is a mistake. Big Pharma is known for putting profits before people. Backed by governments, shielded from lawsuits, and rolling in billions, they have no reason to care about the dangers they're spreading. The question isn't if they'd do this, it's when they already have.*

· Cold Storage—The Real Reason. Why were these vials stored at freezing temperatures. It wasn't just about preserving the vaccine. It was to keep these parasites alive. Once injected and they warm up, they start moving inside your body, ready to wreak havoc.

· Hydra Vulgaris—the Immortal Parasite. This parasite is nearly immortal, with the ability to regenerate itself endlessly. Imagine that—an organism inside your body that can live forever, multiplying inside your bloodstream. This isn't just scary—it's a nightmare.

· Trypanosoma Cruzi—the Killer Parasite. Another parasite found in vaccines is Trypanosoma cruzi, which causes Chagas disease. It's a silent killer, slowly damaging the heart and digestive system over years. How many people have this ticking time bomb in their veins right now.

· Toxoplasma Gondii—Mind Control Parasite*. This parasite can manipulate behavior. Scientists have shown it can alter brain chemistry in animals, making them act irrationally. Now imagine this mind-control being injected into humans—millions could already be under its influence.*

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

· The Cover-Up. The media has stayed silent. Why. Because Big Pharma and governments are in on this. They need us to trust vaccines. They've silenced whistleblowers, buried the truth, and labeled anyone exposing this as spreading 'misinformation.'

· Conclusion: This is the crime of the century, and it's happening right now. We're being injected with deadly organisms, all for profit. It's time to wake up. Don't let these parasites take over your body or your mind. Fight back—before it's too late.

· Wojcicki is mentioned in the Qdrops as Being Associated with creating a Mass Surveillance State in a Collaborated effort between Silicon Valley and the CIA & NSA

· Sergey Brin (born in Madcow), the founder of Google, was married to… Anne Wojcicki, the founder of 23andme, whose sister is Susan Wojcicki, the CEO of YouTube [DARPA] (she died recently though). Funny how they're all connected, eh?

· The drops also elude that [DARPA] aka Google played a role in the Spy Campaign against Trump… same with Twitter 1.0… which was believed to be used in an assassination attempt, where they tried to shoot AF1 out of the sky.

· The End Goal: The research arms of the CIA and NSA hoped that the best computer-science minds in academia could identify what they called "birds of a feather": Just as geese fly together in large V shapes, or flocks of sparrows make sudden movements together in harmony, they predicted that like-minded groups of humans would move together online. The intelligence community named their first unclassified briefing for scientists the "birds of a feather" briefing, and the "Birds of a Feather Session on the Intelligence Community Initiative in Massive Digital Data Systems" took place at the Fairmont Hotel in San Jose in the spring of 1995.

· At this point, Iris scanners are now on our phones screening our eyes to "confirm our identity"… Q eluded to how long before that becomes a drop of blood · In addition to all of this, there's also the threat of biological warfare against specific genealogy (specific races)… as RFK JR talked about Japan Warns Bill Gates His “Days Are Numbered” After Abortion Drugs Found in Vaccines!

· Japan has just issued a stern warning to Bill Gates after shocking discoveries of abortion-inducing drugs in Covid vaccines sent shockwaves around the world. Japan’s Covid Task Force uncovered explosive evidence of a depopulation agenda, with experts like Dr. Fukushima calling for Gates to face crimes against humanity charges.

· This seismic shift in global health is unraveling as Japan, known for its integrity, steps up to take on one of the most powerful figures in modern history. The globalist billionaire, Bill Gates, has long been accused of pushing his own agenda under the guise of philanthropy. But now, the mask is coming off. Depopulation? Abortion drugs in vaccines? These aren’t fringe theories anymore—Japan’s investigation has brought them to light, and the global community is starting to ask questions.

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

· Bill Gates has used his vast influence, through the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, to push his controversial health agendas, including population control. His fingerprints are all over initiatives that have long raised eyebrows—from vaccines to so-called "reproductive health services." And now, Japan is the first nation to call him out on this global conspiracy. The scandal centers around Japan's investigation into the vaccines distributed during the pandemic. Scientists discovered abortion-inducing drugs—a revelation that points to something far more sinister.

· Depopulation isn't just a theory anymore; it's becoming a glaring reality. Dr. Fukushima, Japan's leading voice on this issue, isn't mincing words. He's accusing Gates of pushing these drugs as part of a deliberate attack on humanity. Japan's government is not backing down. They've vowed to pursue this to the end, calling for Gates to face the consequences of what they're calling one of the biggest crimes of the century.

· The evidence is stacking up, and the world is watching as Japan takes the lead in this fight for truth and justice. As Gates' empire of influence begins to crumble under the weight of these allegations, the question becomes: will other countries follow Japan's lead? Will they finally start to investigate the vaccines and the powerful figures behind them?

· The global reckoning is here, and Japan has made it clear—they will not be silenced. Gates' days of unchecked power are over. The walls are closing in, and the people are waking up. Japan is sounding the alarm, and it's only a matter of time before the entire world demands justice. This is the beginning of the end for Gates—and it's all unfolding right now.

First-in-the-World Ivermectin, Mebendazole, and Fenbendazole Protocol in Cancer Has Been Peer-Reviewed and Published on Sep. 19, 2024!

Breaking news! The first-ever peer-reviewed cancer treatment protocol using Ivermectin, Mebendazole, and Fenbendazole has been published. This revolutionary protocol is shaking up the medical world and bringing hope to millions facing cancer. These once-common drugs, now repurposed, are challenging mainstream oncology in ways no one thought possible.

A New Era in Cancer Treatment

Bryed Billerbeck SoY © Copyright 2024-12-30

For decades, cancer treatment has been dominated by chemotherapy, radiation, and surgery, but this peer-reviewed breakthrough changes everything. No longer are we talking about managing symptoms or extending life by mere months—we're looking at a future where cancer treatment can deliver faster recoveries, better outcomes, and potentially cures.

Spearheaded by leading researchers like Ilyes Baghli, Pierrick Martinez, and the FLCCC's Dr. Paul Marik, this groundbreaking protocol harnesses the untapped power of Ivermectin, Mebendazole, and Fenbendazole, known for their effectiveness against parasites. Now, these drugs are showing undeniable potential to battle cancer, marking the dawn of a new treatment revolution.

Why These Drugs?

This trio of repurposed drugs has been shown to disrupt the growth of cancer cells, particularly by targeting microtubules, the essential structures that allow cancer to multiply uncontrollably. What makes this protocol even more potent is the synergistic effect when these drugs are used together, creating a powerful new weapon against cancer.

Thousands of Success Stories

Cancer patients who were once out of options, who were told they had no hope, are now beating the odds. Tumors are shrinking, and lives are being saved. This isn't just anecdotal anymore—scientific documentation is proving the remarkable effects. These treatments are also affordable and widely available, offering a lifeline that mainstream oncology never could.

Mainstream Oncology's Failure

COVID-19 exposed the cracks in traditional cancer care. Oncologists, once trusted, have been following flawed protocols, pushing dangerous vaccines that have led to devastating consequences for cancer patients. These so-called doctors have betrayed the very people they were supposed to save, blindly following the pharmaceutical industry's mRNA agenda, causing a rise in Turbo Cancers, cardiac arrests, and more.

Now, mainstream oncology is collapsing. The old way is dying, and a new path is emerging.

Hope for the Future

This protocol signals a monumental shift. It's not just a research paper—it's the future. We are at the edge of a world where affordable, accessible cancer treatments could replace the broken system of chemotherapy and radiation. With more clinical trials already underway, these repurposed drugs are poised to rewrite the playbook on how we tackle cancer.

A New Hope for Millions

Thanks to this revolutionary work, cancer may soon be defeated. These drugs, once dismissed as simple anti-parasitics, are proving to be the key to conquering cancer, not just for a select few but for millions worldwide.

Justin Trudeau's government has launched a chilling plan: euthanizing Canadians suffering severe COVID vaccine injuries – the same vaccines Trudeau pushed onto the nation. Forced, coerced, and now discarded, these individuals find themselves in a system that won't protect them.

With rising cases of vaccine injuries and the healthcare costs spiraling, the Trudeau administration faces a mounting crisis. Billions are needed to treat the vaccine-injured, but instead of care, euthanasia is on the table! Lawsuits are looming that could shatter both Big Pharma and the Canadian government financially, so the regime chooses to silence and eliminate those suffering.

Canada, once a symbol of freedom, now silences those with low social credit scores – a terrifying reality covered up by media silence. But the truth is coming out. Nuremberg 2.0 is on the horizon, set to expose these dark secrets, and it could erupt any moment!

"The eyes can't see when the mind is blind and in a coma of control!" Many are watching a staged reality, but the matrix is crumbling. Break free before it's too late!

9 Nov. 2024: Big Pharma is Secretly Ghostwriting Articles in Top Medical and Oncology Journals to Trick Doctors into Prescribing Their Dangerous Drugs! …Nesara/Gesara on Telegram

· The Real Agenda: Population Control*. You think this is just about making money? Think again. The pharmaceutical industry has allied with governments, tech companies, and global elites to execute their ultimate endgame: population control. This isn't mere speculation – it's a stark reality.*

· Their mission extends far beyond profit*. They crave your compliance. They want to keep you reliant on their drugs so you become too ill, too exhausted, and too mentally dulled to resist. The goal? To cultivate a sick, compliant populace, easily manipulated and dominated. Consider how they are pushing vaccines, gene therapies, and mRNA technology. This isn't about public health; it's about engineering your biology. Each dose makes them more powerful, altering your genetic makeup, and when digital health passports become widespread, your medical status could dictate your access to essential societal privileges. It's a system designed to enforce compliance, marginalizing those who dare to resist.*

· New Revelations: How Big Pharma is Engineering "Diseases" to Sell You More Drugs. But wait, there's more. Beyond ghostwriting fraudulent studies, Big Pharma has concocted new diseases to sell more drugs. Look around at the explosion of diagnoses over the past two decades: restless leg syndrome, generalized anxiety disorder, adult ADHD. Did we, as a species, suddenly develop a plethora of new disorders?

· No. These so-called diseases were fabricated to open new profit channels. Psychologists, PR firms, and lobbyists were employed to pathologize normal human behaviors, convincing the public that ordinary emotions and reactions were symptoms of disorders. Feeling nervous before a presentation? You've got generalized anxiety disorder. Having trouble focusing? Must be adult ADHD. Congratulations – you've just earned a prescription for a drug you probably don't need.

· The medical system has been transformed into a profit-driven spectacle, conditioning patients to believe they're inherently flawed and must rely on pharmaceuticals for life. It's a grim cycle of perpetual medication and endless profit.

· The Real Cost: You Become the Lab Rat. Now, consider the consequences. Doctors worldwide read these ghostwritten studies, prescribing drugs they mistakenly believe to be effective. This turns unsuspecting patients into human test subjects for Big Pharma's billion-dollar payday.

· Imagine seeking treatment, trusting that the drug your doctor prescribes is safe*. In reality, that medication is based on a study fabricated from start to finish, making you an unwitting participant in this grand deception. And here's the bitter irony: you're paying for the privilege. You're both a victim and a source of revenue, trapped in a system rigged to deplete your health and your wallet.*

· Ghostwriting Lies: How Big Pharma Writes Your Fate in Medical Journals*. The core of Big Pharma's scheme lies in ghostwriting medical studies. They aren't merely influencing journals; they're crafting the very research that dictates healthcare decisions. What appears as peer-reviewed science is often a marketing piece disguised to promote harmful, ineffective drugs.*

· These prestigious journals – The Lancet, The New England Journal of Medicine, Journal of Clinical Oncology *– have been infiltrated, serving as promotional platforms in lab coats. misleading data and positive spins on dangerous drugs. Top physicians are paid to put their names on these fabricated studies, without ever engaging in the actual research. It's an elaborate con that continues to deceive the medical community and harm patients.

13 NOV. 2024: BREAKING NEWS! FDA CORRUPTION EXPOSED: Big Pharma's Control Over America's Health System Unveiled! …Julian Assange on Telegram

· America's health crisis isn't a natural disaster—it's manufactured by Big Pharma's grip on the FDA! Under the guise of protecting public health, the FDA has become a pawn for pharmaceutical giants who profit from chronic illness. RFK Jr.'s MAHA movement fights to restore fairness, but it's up to Americans to rise up. Will we take back our health or stay trapped in Big Pharma's iron grip?

· How Big Pharma Has Hijacked Our Health: American health has deteriorated under a system where the FDA, funded by Big Pharma, rubber-stamps drugs with severe side effects while silencing critics. Chronic illness has become Big Pharma's cash cow, and the FDA's revolving door of officials moving to high-paying pharma jobs only fuels this cycle of corruption.

· FDA Funded by Big Pharma—Is This Fair? Around 65% of the FDA's drug review budget comes from the same companies it regulates! This funding is a direct line to leniency and influence, allowing Big Pharma to push drugs into the market unchecked. Is it any surprise when these companies rake in profits while we suffer the side effects?

· The Revolving Door—FDA Chiefs Join Big Pharma: Since 2006, most FDA heads have transitioned into high-paid Big Pharma roles after leaving office. Mark McClellan joined Johnson & Johnson; Scott Gottlieb sits on Pfizer's Board. These connections blur the lines between public health and private wealth, betraying the American people. How can we trust their oversight?

· RFK Jr. and the MAHA Movement Stand Against Big Pharma's Stranglehold: RFK Jr.'s Make America Healthy Again (MAHA) movement fights to expose and dismantle this web of influence. MAHA isn't just a campaign—it's a full-scale rebellion against corporate greed in healthcare. With transparency and accountability at its core, MAHA aims to free America from Big Pharma's chokehold.

· Big Pharma's Priority: Profits Over People: In the U.S., Big Pharma spends millions on direct-to-consumer advertising to create dependency. Drugs aren't meant to cure; they're meant to manage, feeding a cycle of reliance. Chronic conditions are profitable; treatment is their ticket to endless revenue.

· America, It's Time to Act! Demand FDA Reform NOW! If we don't act now, Big Pharma will continue to dictate our health policies. MAHA's vision is a healthcare system that values people over profit. Americans are fed up, and rightfully so! Join RFK Jr. in fighting for a healthcare future where regulation serves the people—not corporate interests.

"First, Do No Harm" Was Never Meant for Big Pharma

The government twisted the Hippocratic Oath to protect Big Pharma's profits, not American lives. COVID policies were a massive, coordinated deception, confirmed in October by a House report. Biden used nearly $1 billion of your tax money to push propaganda, exaggerating COVID's danger while hiding vaccine failures.

The “We Can Do This” campaign, masterminded by Biden and the Fors-Marsh Group, prioritized fear over truth. This disinformation campaign made Pfizer $50 billion in two years, while Americans faced lockdowns, ruined businesses, lost education, and shattered lives. Censorship silenced real science, like the Great Barrington Declaration signed by over 16,000 scientists. Instead of listening, the government declared it disinformation.

Other nations—like Sweden, Norway, and India—proved lockdowns and mandates weren’t necessary. Meanwhile, the U.S. recorded the worst outcomes among industrialized nations, all to protect a narrative. The COVID death rate was inflated 50 times, and children, rarely at risk, were pushed into unsafe vaccines. Biden discharged 8,300 military personnel for refusing the jab, weakening national security.

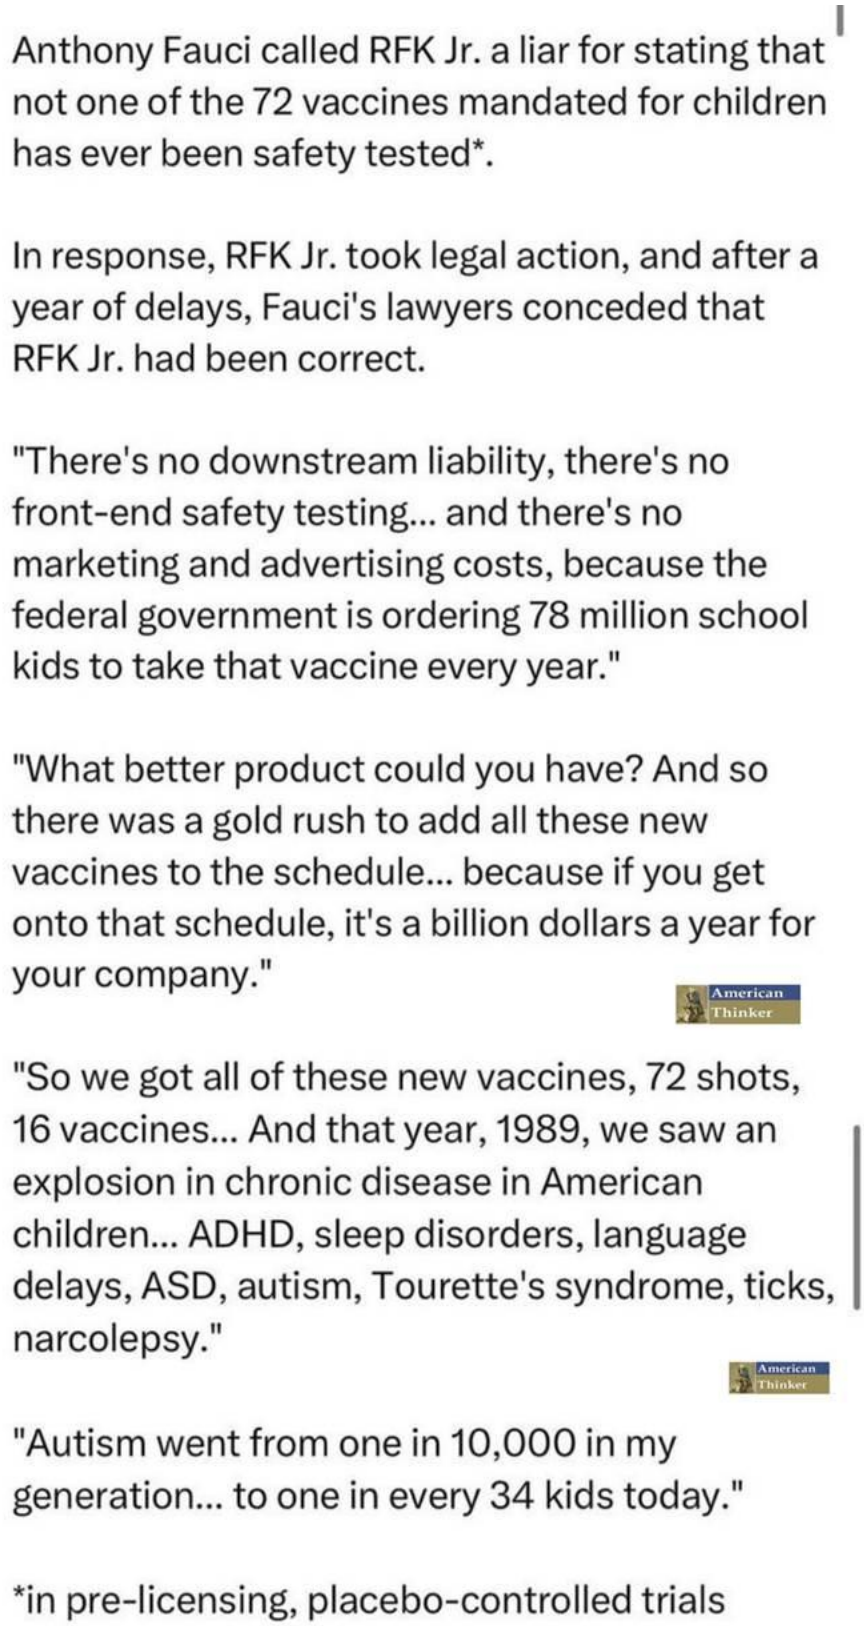

The truth about treatments like Ivermectin was suppressed because it was too cheap to profit Big Pharma. Peer-reviewed studies now show 40%-50% of COVID deaths could have been prevented. Instead, we were sold expensive, ineffective drugs like Remdesivir and Paxlovid, with severe side effects and minimal benefits.

VAERS data showed over 6,000 vaccine deaths in six months, with a whistleblower claiming underreporting by fivefold. Pfizer and the FDA even tried to hide vaccine trial data for 75 years, exposing their fraud.

As the Nov 5 election passed, Big Pharma’s top executives held an emergency meeting. They know what’s coming. They’re scared—and they should be. The new wave of truth is here.

We must never forget the betrayal by our so-called Dedicated Public Servants and their masters in Big Pharma. Americans are awake now. We will hold them accountable. Watch them squirm.

Remember when Anthony Fauci accused RFK of lying about a claim regarding vaccine safety tests? RFK responded by filing a lawsuit against him.

Here’s the twist: After years of bureaucratic red tape and legal maneuvering, Fauci’s legal team eventually had to admit in court that RFK was right—no federally mandated childhood vaccines had ever undergone proper safety testing in children.

6 Dec. 2024: “PERSISTENT SPIKE PROTEIN FROM mRNA VACCINES MAY CAUSE CANCER” – A SHOCKING STUDY FROM ITALY …Gitmo TV on Telegram

· A groundbreaking study from the Center for Global Health at the Istituto Superiore di Sanità in Rome, led by Dr. Maurizio Federico and funded by the Ministry of Health, exposes alarming risks linked to mRNA COVID-19 vaccines. Despite repeated assurances from officials like former Health Minister Roberto Speranza and ex-Prime Minister Mario Draghi, the findings suggest a darker reality.

· The Spike Protein’s Deadly Legacy: The vaccines were touted as "safe and effective," yet evidence now confirms the inflammatory Spike protein persists in the body for months post-injection, traveling beyond the injection site into various organs. This protein, translated from mRNA encapsulated in lipid nanoparticles, is implicated in chronic inflammation, myocarditis, pericarditis, autoimmune diseases, and even cancer.

· Key Research Findings: Persistent Spike Production: The Spike protein, abundantly produced post-vaccination, disrupts ACE-2 signaling and cytokine production. This overproduction leads to immune dysregulation, fostering autoimmune responses and tumor reactivation.

· Immune System Exhaustion: The study highlights the vaccine's inability to mount effective immunity at the virus’s entry point (respiratory tract), coupled with rapid immune response depletion.

· Dormant Tumors Reawakened: Cytokines triggered by Spike/ACE-2 binding can reactivate dormant tumors and exacerbate pre-existing autoimmune conditions.

· Unresolved Concerns: Efforts to enhance vaccine efficacy, such as self-replicating mRNA vectors, have been greenlit for trials by Japan, despite known dangers. These technologies may amplify Spike persistence and its associated cellular damage without solving the fundamental issue—failure to elicit neutralizing immunity in the respiratory tract.

· Call for a Safer Approach: The study suggests mucosal vaccines as a potential alternative, targeting the virus's entry point and avoiding the severe systemic side effects seen with intramuscular mRNA vaccines. However, the global focus on mRNA technology demands urgent scrutiny to address its risks, especially for vulnerable populations.

· A Critical Reassessment Is Needed: The evidence is clear: mRNA vaccine strategies must be reevaluated to prevent catastrophic health outcomes. Persistent Spike proteins and immune system damage are risks humanity cannot afford to ignore. What was sold as a miracle cure now poses questions about trust, transparency, and the safety of millions.

. 9 Dec. 2024: A top U.S. veterinarian has exposed the plan to surreptitiously euthanize the nations pets via the standard vaccination schedule recommended by the CDC. Dr. John Robb, a Connecticut vet with over 32 years of experience, says he believes the current recommended vaccine schedule can lead to serious health issues in pets, including vomiting, tumours at the injection site, immune diseases and even death from anaphylaxis.

Vaccine Fallout Intensifies: A shocking new study reveals COVID-vaccinated individuals are 'shedding' harmful effects onto the unvaccinated. Women in close proximity to the jabbed faced skyrocketing rates of menstrual abnormalities. Coincidence. Or proof of a bigger agenda. The truth is out there, and they can't hide it forever.

14 Dec. 2024 Australia: Supreme Court declares Myrna Vaccine Poisonous: "This is beyond HUGE. There are tears of joy, not just in Australia but across the world. The criminal malfeasants from our government health bureaucracy have been destroyed in Queensland Supreme Court. Here's what Dr. William Bay said after the court handed down its decision, "I think the vaccines are shit mate, they're absolute shit, they are killers. poisonous. They are bad for you, they are not good for you. They are harming your children they are harming you. Everything you've heard has been there to deceive you. I have been vindicated in court today. To let you know the people of Australia that you have been lied to by the medical regulator. The medical regulator APHRA has lied to you. Big Pharma is panicking, and for good reason. Trump and RFK Jr. are tearing down the lies, exposing the autism epidemic linked to vaccines, and revealing how our children were sacrificed for profit. This isn't just a fight for transparency—it's a war against a system built on deception and greed.

· BIG PHARMA'S SECRET NETWORK: Pharmaceutical companies don't just sell products—they control politicians, agencies, and the media. They silence anyone questioning vaccine safety through censorship and smear campaigns. Whistleblowers reveal secret meetings between Big Pharma execs and CDC and FDA officials at luxury resorts, where vaccine schedules are set and dissent is crushed.

· THE VACCINE INJURY COVER-UP: The National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program (NVICP) has paid over $4 billion to families of vaccine-injured children, but this is just the tip of the iceberg. Thousands of cases are buried under legal red tape, leaving families without justice. Trump and Kennedy plan to expose this broken system and bring the truth to light.

· POPULATION CONTROL THROUGH VACCINES?: Whistleblowers allege vaccines are being used for global population control. A chilling example: tetanus vaccines in Kenya were found laced with HCG, a hormone causing infertility. Could similar tactics be used in the U.S.? Kennedy is digging for answers, and the elites are terrified.

· THE REAL REASON THEY FEAR KENNEDY: Kennedy's mission is to dismantle the revolving door between Big Pharma and federal agencies. FDA and CDC employees are panicking, shredding documents and wiping hard drives to cover decades of corruption. But the truth is catching up.

· MEDIA COLLUSION: The corporate media isn't just complicit—they're part of the system. Pharmaceutical companies funnel millions into advertising, ensuring networks like CNN and MSNBC protect their narrative. Leaked emails show coordinated efforts to smear Kennedy, labeling him a "conspiracy theorist" to shut down debate.

· THE PLAN TO TAKE THEM DOWN: Trump and Kennedy are preparing independent audits of the CDC and FDA, whistleblower protections, and a complete overhaul of the vaccine approval process. They're working to end Big Pharma's immunity under NVICP, paving the way for lawsuits that could bankrupt the companies responsible for vaccine injuries.

· THE TIDE IS TURNING: This isn't just a movement—it's a revolution. The alliance between Trump and Kennedy is exposing the medical-industrial complex and its decades of lies. Every suppressed study and whistleblower account pushes Big Pharma closer to collapse.
