

The Deep State Push for World War III

World War III: Who Wins? The answer is clear: the Cabal always wins. The unfolding events surrounding global tensions, especially those involving Russia, are not mere coincidences or isolated incidents. They represent a calculated strategy by the elites to destabilize the world, profit from chaos, and consolidate power. Here is the evidence:

Russian State Television: A Signal, Not a Simulation

Russian state television, Tsargrad.TV, has recently aired what appears to be a simulation of a nuclear strike on London. But this isn't just propaganda or a show of force; it is a deliberate signal to the world. The globalists are orchestrating both sides of this conflict, ensuring that the stage is set for World War III. The masses, distracted and misled, are being led like lambs to the slaughter while the rich and powerful retreat to their fortified bunkers, fully prepared for the chaos they themselves have engineered.

The Target: London as a Symbol of Western Finance

London's destruction is not just a hypothetical scenario; it is a key element in the elites' grand design. As the financial heart of the West, London's downfall would serve as a pivotal moment in their plan to destabilize and reset the global order. This isn't about Russia flexing its military might—it's about the elites facilitating chaos to usher in the Great Reset.

The Elites' Intentions: Building a New World Order from Ashes

The elites are not passive observers; they are active architects of this unfolding disaster. They thrive on chaos, destruction, and the loss of millions of lives because it allows them to rebuild the world in their image. Central banks are hoarding gold, a clear indicator that they are preparing for the collapse of fiat currencies and the emergence of a post-apocalyptic economy where hard assets reign supreme.

The Media: Complicit in Misinformation and Distraction

The mainstream media plays a crucial role in this grand deception. While the gears of war grind ever closer, the media keeps the public distracted with celebrity scandals and fabricated news stories. Their silence and obfuscation regarding the true intentions behind these global tensions are not accidental but deliberate.

The New War Paradigm: Control and Consolidation

World War III is already underway. It is not confined to the battlefield but extends to control over narratives, populations, and the future of humanity. NATO's provocations against Russia are not accidental; they are part of a broader strategy to escalate the conflict. This war is about total domination by the elites, who use it as a means to consolidate power further.

The Elites' Preparations: Profiting from Chaos

While the world teeters on the brink of disaster, the elites have been methodically positioning themselves for survival and domination. Stockpiling resources, building underground bunkers, and consolidating wealth are just the tip of the iceberg. Politicians, bankers, and corporate overlords have long been preparing for this moment, knowing that the post-collapse world will offer unprecedented opportunities for control.

The Endgame: Total Collapse and a New Order

When the bombs fall, the elites will be safe in their havens, watching as society tears itself apart. This division, cultivated through decades of lies and manipulation, is their ultimate strategy. From the ashes of a devastated world, they intend to emerge as the new rulers, rebuilding society according to their vision of absolute power and control.

What Must Be Done

This is happening. The evidence is clear. Unless people wake up to the truth, they will remain in the dark, victims of a plan that has been decades in the making. The time to act is now. Awareness and resistance are the only tools available to counter the elites' endgame.

Conclusion

The push for World War III is not a spontaneous development but a meticulously crafted strategy by the global elites. From media complicity to the deliberate targeting of financial hubs, every move is calculated to bring about chaos, destruction, and the consolidation of power. The masses must awaken to this reality before it is too late. The future depends on it.
