

Patriots Statement of Belief & Oath

We the people of the Republic For the United States of America believe and swear in Oath:

1. The Founding Fathers of The Republic for the United States of America were believers in The Lord God Almighty, specifically, Christ Jesus and His teachings. The Founding Fathers, Puritans and Pilgrims before them truly believed they were God's people, the "New Israel", (fleeing faith persecution and economic enslavement in Europe) heirs to the Biblical, Genesis 12 Abrahamic Covenant. Blessed to be a blessing to all nations.
2. Like us, our Founding Fathers were sinful men, often blind to their own sins and shortcomings. (Slavery, Native American genocide, greed, etc.) Never the less, they were inspired by and used by God to pen the Declaration of Independence, Bill of Rights and the Constitution "for" the Republic for the United States of America to stand up this nation.
3. As a result of the sins of our fathers and our own sins, our easily being led astray by Satan and his minions (via MSM, Hollywood, Broadway and evil infiltration into all earthly systems (government, education, financial systems, church, etc.)) we were led into captivity for 4 generations, our punishment for breaking covenant with God, no longer under his blessing or protection.
4. If we humble ourselves before God, confess our sins, repent of them and seek forgiveness, individually and nationally, with God leading, we will be restored to right relationship with Him, the Abrahamic covenant will be restored and then, our beloved Republic for the United States of America can be rightly restored as well, blessed and protected by God once again so that we may again be a blessing, to all nations. Without The Lord God Almighty, specifically Christ Jesus, none of this will happen.

National Recognition of Sin and Return to Covenant with God

- Section 1 – Acknowledgment of Individual and National Transgressions
As individuals, we have fallen asleep and rejected God and God's moral law. As a result, we were taken captive by Satanists who subverted our government from within. As a People desiring righteousness, truth, and justice, we solemnly acknowledge and confess our individual sins of the rejection of God, Yeshua, and the resulting grievous sins committed by and permitted within our nation by our Satanic captors—both past and present. These include, but are not limited to: the sanctioning and facilitation of abortion, the historical practice of slavery, the genocide and displacement of Native American peoples, the use of unjust weights and corrupt scales in our systems of justice and commerce, the worship of false gods (Hollywood actors & actresses, professional athletes, corporate titans, royalty, the rich and famous, money, sex, power, Satan, Ala, self-indulgence, etc.), endless wars and the widespread rejection of God's moral law. (See Appendix)
- Section 2 – Humble Repentance and Plea for Mercy
With contrite hearts, we recognize that no lasting restoration or liberty can be attained apart from repentance and the mercy of the Almighty. We, as a People, turn from these transgressions, asking forgiveness from God through Yeshua the Messiah, acknowledging that He alone can cleanse our collective guilt and restore us to right standing.

- Section 3 – Restoration of National Covenant

We reaffirm our covenant with God as a Nation under His Sovereignty and moral law. The People, through their assemblies and institutions, shall actively reject wickedness and pursue justice, mercy, and truth as instructed in God’s Word. Public acknowledgment of this covenant shall be integrated into civic life, lawmaking, and education, so that future generations may walk uprightly and avoid the sins of the past.

- Section 4 – Public Acts of Confession and Memorialization

Days of prayer, fasting, and national confession shall be observed annually to remember the cost of disobedience and to reaffirm our commitment to God’s ways. Historic wrongs shall be taught with honesty and humility—not to sow division, but to teach discernment and honor the lessons of repentance and divine restoration.

- Section 5 – Protection from Repetition of National Sins

No law, practice, or governmental policy shall promote or excuse the repetition of these sins. Any such efforts shall be met with lawful resistance by the People, and swift remedy through Assembly-led oversight and correction. The People shall vigilantly guard their land from returning to the bondage of sin and rebellion.

The Native American Question

Has anyone among us inquired of God concerning what is to be done with respect to Native American tribes? Were they destroyed by God’s wrath and judgment for their sins, using unrighteous men to do so? God doesn’t usually punish the innocent. He tests them but, doesn’t punish them without cause.

Our history is clouded by lies and has been dominated now for decades by woke, politically correct, bleeding-heart nonsense that has leaked into all aspects of our culture. Everyone’s a victim and white males are responsible for it all right? Confessing sins that we didn’t commit, that’s woke and it’s not scriptural. That’s all Democrat victim mentality. We didn’t do that to the tribal nations and we didn’t do that to the blacks. Even our ancestors didn’t. That was some evil deep state people claiming Christianity just like some imposters in the Republic now. Our ancestors fought in the Civil War to end deep state slavery just like we’re fighting now to rid ourselves of the latest deep state enslavement, our own.

Trump is ending PC, self-loathing, victim mentality wokeism so, why are we allowing any of it in the Re-Inhabited Republic? We are now being compelled to embrace tribal nations and their cultures which include their religious beliefs and practices along with their leaders as natural allies in the Republic’s restoration. But what if these tribes remain bound to occult practices and the worship of false gods? Would we not then be partnering with the tribes of satanists rather than children of God?

Even the Re-Inhabited Volumes record a conference with tribal nation leaders facilitated by Billy Graham and his son Franklin— pedophiles, men entangled with the very deep-state powers that corrupted our Republic. Think of the pedophile satanist presidents Billy Graham was “Official Pastor” to? The apple doesn’t fall far from the tree. It’s no coincidence they were at the tribal meetings encouraging a potentially woke agenda and satanic partnership. Who is the champion of woke? Who profits most from mingling pagan spiritual strongholds with the Republic’s restoration, if not Satan himself? And now we’re doing it again with tribal leaders at the Colorado meeting in October.

Scripture shows us the pattern with Israel. Whenever God’s people turned away from God to idols and false gods, He brought an unrighteous nation against them. eventually He judged that nation for its arrogance against His people. If this is His way, then we must tread carefully; discerning whether the Native peoples fell under judgment for idolatry, witchcraft, satanic beliefs or other sins and if so, have they repented and turned back to God.

If the Native Americans have repented, turned back to the Lord, God will restore them. He’ll restore them just like He did in the Old Testament every time Israel screwed up and God used a satanic or pagan nation to bring them into captivity and send them off to another land (reservation), right? In that other land, if they returned to the Lord wholeheartedly, they’d get to come back to their lands to rebuild and be restored. But if we restore them before or without repentance and before God's timing, then we're sinning. We're not following God's example, rules or anything else and we're surely not in His will in doing so. We're just being woke. We're helping Satan, queen of woke, playing the guilt card so we “feel” it’s okay to let them continue in their sin. That's not of God and just wrong.

If they haven't come back to Christ, or never knew Christ before (think Canaanites), that'd be like the Israelites giving Canaan back to the Canaanites after God cleared the Canaanites out of the promised land because of their massive sins. Or like giving the land back to the Gibeonites of the Bible, the people who deceived the Israelites when God said "destroy everyone there." The Gibeonites claimed they came from a distant land with all their old wineskins and moldy bread offered as proof, there by fooling the Israelites who didn't inquire of God first, into making a treaty with them after God had told them to destroy everyone. The Israelites ended up making them slaves and woodcutters instead of destroying them as they were trapped by their treaty. Eventually the Israelites began worshiping Gibeonite gods so that God had to later kick the Israelites out of the promised land. So, clearly, not inquiring of Go and going against God's will didn't work so well for them. Are the Native Americans a satanic Trojan Horse, the Gibeonites of the Re-Inhabited Republic? Their beliefs and practices are already leaking into the Republic. Many are following these false, satanic gods and teachings.

Have the Native Americans repented and turned back to God? The only way to know this is to inquire of God. Scripture tells us to “test the spirits.” (look at what they’re doing now) Let’s look at their fruit or a few examples of where repentance might not be the case:

- If the tribal nations had repented, there wouldn’t be totem (Ashera) poles, casinos or the corruption they attract (drugs, crime, money laundering, human trafficking) on the reservations. Spirit guides, totem poles, casinos, trafficking = deep state stronghold —clear signs of no repentance. At a minimum, send someone to some reservations to check for Evergreen containers used for trafficking children before engagement.
- Ask tribal leaders about their relationship with the Grahams. They likely don’t know we know the Grahams are deep state so, they might freely admit to being involved with the Grahams. If they do, dig. Find out what they’re doing together. Find out who invited or suggested the Grahams be involved in the Re-Inhabited meetings. That could lead to Re-Inhabited Republic infiltrators as well. So, be careful with that one.

The Black American Question

The same discernment applies to the history of slavery in the USA. It was surely man’s wickedness but, could it also have been God’s chastisement for sins African Americans were involved in? The depravity of some in that culture that has become acceptable to many in our culture via Hollywood and the music industry, would similarly indicate no repentance. Again, woke political correctness cannot dictate our path forward. For if something was permitted by the hand of God, then seeking to undo it in the flesh, as above, may set us against His will. The truth is, God does not allow the truly innocent to be destroyed without purpose. We must therefore discern whether repentance and restoration to Him have occurred before we speak of reparations or Republic inclusion.

A Call to Discernment

This matter is about whether we will bind this Republic to the Kingdom of God alone, or whether we will break covenant with Him by grafting in unrepentant spiritual allegiances. To proceed without spiritual discernment risks repeating the sins of Israel when they yoked themselves to pagan nations and fell under judgment. Only if the Re-Inhabited Republic proceeds rightly, wholly yielded to and seeking God’s will, to embrace only what is sanctified by repentance and faith in Christ, are we worthy of God, in covenant with Him and worthy of being stood up as His Republic.

Before any decision is made concerning reparations, inclusion, or covenant-making with Native or Black Americans—or any other group—we must first:

1. Inquire of God earnestly. Seek His counsel directly before acting.
2. Discern repentance. Ask whether those once under judgment have turned from idolatry and sin to Christ.
3. Avoid dual citizenship. Both natural and spiritual; we cannot serve two masters.
4. Test the spirits. For Satan ever disguises himself as an angel of light (false truth), and counterfeit revivals abound. Look at their fruit.
5. Stand on truth, not lies. Much of U.S. history is distorted. We must dig for what is true before bringing falsehood into our Republic's foundation.

These sins are the sins of the Satanists who over through our national government in the mid-1800s.
