

EXODUS FROM SATANIC SYSTEMS

The Republic & Scriptural Fulfillment

Exodus from Babylon, Covenant Restoration, and the Light to the Nations

Author: Bryed Billerbeck

Version: 1.1 | 2025

Abstract (Isaiah 60 · Exodus · Babylon vs the Kingdom of God)

This document examines the Republic through the lens of biblical fulfillment, demonstrating that Scripture provides a consistent pattern for national deliverance, restoration, and righteous governance. Rather than presenting political reform as the solution to corruption, Scripture reveals a covenantal sequence: separation from bondage, judgment of corrupt systems, renewal of covenant allegiance, and the emergence of light that draws the nations. This pattern appears repeatedly—from the Exodus, through the prophetic warnings against Babylon, to the promises of Isaiah 60.

By applying this scriptural framework, the document identifies modern systems of bondage—governmental, economic, legal, educational, medical, media, and spiritual—not as isolated failures, but as coordinated expressions of rebellion against God’s order. Scripture is used to diagnose these systems and to identify God’s prescribed remedies: justice, liberty, truth, healing, and righteous authority under God.

The work concludes that the restoration of a Republic is not primarily political, technological, or institutional. It is covenantal. Deliverance precedes governance. Light follows repentance. The Kingdom of God replaces Babylon not through revolution, but through judgment and righteousness.

Purpose & Scope

Purpose.

To demonstrate that the concept of a restored Republic aligns with established biblical patterns of national deliverance and covenant restoration, and to provide a scriptural framework for discerning whether modern developments reflect genuine restoration or counterfeit reform.

Scope.

This document:

- Establishes Exodus, Babylon, and Isaiah 60 as recurring biblical frameworks for national restoration.
- Identifies seven major systems of bondage addressed consistently in Scripture.
- Provides scriptural diagnoses and remedies for each system.
- Clarifies that the struggle is against spiritual principalities and systems, not individuals.
- Sets forth biblical discernment standards for evaluating modern claims and actions.
- Defines covenant repentance—not political restructuring—as the prerequisite for restoration.
- Articulates measurable scriptural “fruit tests” for assessing whether restoration is underway.

What this document is not.

It is not a prediction timeline, a personality-driven narrative, or a claim of hidden knowledge. It is a scriptural analysis grounded in publicly observable fruit and biblical standards.

Foundational Premise

1. God restores nations through covenantal patterns, not human innovation.
Scripture reveals that national restoration follows a defined sequence: deliverance from bondage, exposure and judgment of corrupt systems, covenant renewal, and righteous governance.
 2. Babylon is judged, not reformed.
God does not repair systems built on rebellion. He calls His people out, executes judgment, and replaces them with Kingdom order.
 3. Separation precedes inheritance.
Deliverance from bondage always comes before law, governance, and blessing. Attempting governance without separation perpetuates captivity.
 4. The battle is systemic and spiritual.
Scripture identifies principalities, powers, and rulers of darkness operating through systems. The focus is therefore on dismantling structures of deception rather than targeting individuals.
 5. Fruit reveals fulfillment.
Scripture provides objective standards—truth, justice, liberty, healing, exposure of darkness—by which any claim of restoration must be tested.

I. FOUNDATIONAL FRAMEWORK: EXODUS AND LIGHT

Isaiah 60 – Covenant Restoration Pattern

“Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee.” (Isaiah 60:1)

“For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee.” (Isaiah 60:2)

God’s pattern is not reform of darkness — it is departure from it.

Exodus Principle

“I am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.” (Exodus 20:2)

Bondage precedes law.
Deliverance precedes governance.
Covenant follows separation.

Babylon Principle

“Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins.” (Revelation 18:4)

God does not fix Babylon.
God judges Babylon and extracts His people.

II. THE SEVEN SATANIC SYSTEMS (SCRIPTURAL ANALYSIS)

“For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world.” (Ephesians 6:12)

This paper addresses systems, not personalities.

“Through philosophy and vain deceit.” (Colossians 2:8)

“Another gospel.” (Galatians 1:6–8)

God’s Remedy

“You shall have no other gods before Me.” (Exodus 20:3)

“True worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth.” (John 4:23)

III. GOD’S RESPONSE: DELIVERERS & JUDGMENT

Scripture shows a repeating pattern:

- God allows corruption to ripen (Genesis 15:16)
- God exposes it (Ephesians 5:11)
- God raises deliverers (Judges 2:16)
- God executes judgment (Psalm 9:16)
- God restores covenant (Nehemiah 9–10)

“I will overturn, overturn, overturn it... until He come whose right it is.” (Ezekiel 21:27)

IV. ISAIAH 60 FULFILLMENT MARKERS

“Violence shall no more be heard in thy land.” (Isaiah 60:18)

“Thy people also shall be all righteous.” (Isaiah 60:21)

“A little one shall become a thousand.” (Isaiah 60:22)

Restoration is slow, painful, exposed, and undeniable.

V. COVENANT RESPONSE REQUIRED

“If my people... shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways.” (2 Chronicles 7:14)

“Choose you this day whom ye will serve.” (Joshua 24:15)

God does not restore nations politically first —
He restores them covenantally first.

CLOSING DECLARATION

“The LORD shall be thine everlasting light.” (Isaiah 60:19)

Exodus precedes inheritance.

Light follows repentance.

The Kingdom replaces Babylon — not by revolution, but by judgment and righteousness.

IV. Summary & Conclusion

This document establishes that the restoration of a Republic is inseparable from Scripture's covenantal framework for national deliverance. From the Exodus to Isaiah's prophetic vision, God's pattern is consistent: He brings His people out of bondage, judges corrupt systems, renews covenant allegiance, and causes light to arise that draws the nations. Attempts to bypass this order result only in cosmetic reform and renewed captivity.

The identification of seven systems of bondage reflects Scripture's comprehensive view of rebellion against God's authority. Government, economics, law, education, health, media, and worship are repeatedly shown to be arenas where righteousness or corruption determines national outcomes. God's remedies—justice, truth, healing, liberty, and righteous authority—stand in direct opposition to Babylonian control systems.

The decisive issue is covenant response. Scripture does not present restoration as a function of elections, policies, or personalities, but of repentance, humility, obedience, and renewed submission to God. Where darkness is exposed, justice restored, truth elevated, and worship purified, the marks of Isaiah 60 become visible. Where these fruits are absent, the call to repentance remains.

The conclusion is therefore clear:

Exodus precedes inheritance. Light follows repentance. The Kingdom replaces Babylon—not by revolution, but by judgment and righteousness.

- DOJ guidance (2017–2019): Emphasized enforcement of conscience protections under existing law.
- Later references/continuations: Indicated policy persistence.

Covenant evaluation: Protects voluntary worship without establishment or coercion—consistent with biblical liberty ordered to righteousness.

IV. ISAIAH 60 — FRUIT CHECKLIST (HOW TO MEASURE)

1. Exposure of darkness (Eph 5:11–13)
 2. Rebuilding capacity (Isa 60:10)
 3. Ordered governance toward peace (Isa 60:17–18)
 4. Transfer from corruption to repair (Isa 60:16–17)
 5. God as enduring light (no personality cult) (Isa 60:19)

V. CONCLUSION

Scripture teaches that nations are restored covenantally, not cosmetically. Public actions may be assessed—without credulity or cynicism—by biblical fruit tests. Where deliverance from bondage, justice in the gates, exposure of darkness, and liberty of worship are strengthened, the pattern of Isaiah 60 is discernible. Where they are not, repentance and reform remain necessary.
